

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

There was some thunder and lightning and a little rain last night. No trace has yet been found of the parties who robbed Mr. Goldsacker the other day.

The blockade on the D. & G. about 150 miles from Utah will probably be lifted within a few days.

There will be a meeting of P. E. Co. No. 1, on Monday evening, at half past seven.

J. H. KILGUS, Secretary.

Mr. Bailey Brown will deliver his lecture on "Those who live in Glass Houses?" in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms, on Monday evening.

Plumber Engine Co., No. 1, of the Fall Lake Fire Brigade, have made all necessary arrangements for their excursion to Ogden Valley, on August 22d.

The general election takes place Monday. It is probably the most important that has occurred in the political annals of Utah. Registered voters of the People's Party, do your duty.

There are now about seventeen thousand dentists in the United States, and they pack into the teeth of the American people about a ton of pure gold, and five times that amount of less precious metal (tin, silver, etc.) annually.

The numerous friends of Brother James Needham will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from the illness that has kept him from business lately. He expects soon to be able to resume his post at Mr. P. T. Treadwell's.

Justice claims what is due, but does not always get it, and sometimes operates very queerly. A man at McPherson, Minn., bought a revolver and was going to kill his family. His wife took the weapon from him, gave him a severe thrashing, and a country justice fined her $5 for it.

At last accounts the Montana stage robbers had not been captured, although it is generally believed that they will in the end land in jail. It is reported that evidence has been secured which indicates that the robbers were from Helena, and that the wagon which they had with them was borrowed in Helena.

A young man proposed for the hand of a beautiful girl. As she hesitated about replying, he said: "I await your answer with bated breath." The girl, who was a humorist, said: "Well, you will have to wait for my answer with something better than bated breath, and spring on me to catch me. Good night."

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Religious Services.—Religious services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at the Tabernacle to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Improvements.—The march of improvements is ever onward. The good people of the 11th Ward have at length realized this fact, and have taken steps to enclose their meeting house premises with a neat picket fence, which is now being put up. Keep at it.

S. S. Union Officers' Meeting.—The monthly meeting of the general officers and committees of the Deseret Sunday School Union will be held on Monday, the 6th inst., at 2 p.m., at Bishop Hunter's office.

L. W. RICHARDS, Secretary.

The Late Earthquake.—A great deal of local as well as general interest has been taken in the late terrible earthquake in Ichia. It may be interesting to the public to know that with one exception, it was the most disastrous affair of the kind that has occurred for one century. A hundred years ago, in 1783, an earthquake at Calabria destroyed 100,000 lives. The next greatest since that time took place at Benos Ayres, in 1861, when 12,000 lives were lost. The latest estimate regarding the number who perished in that of the other day at Ichia, places it at 8,000.

An Assault Case.—This afternoon an assault case which attracted much notice in the complaining witness, was to be tried before Justice Spiers. He alleges that he entered the saloon of Peter Bartlett, and being unable to leave what was said to him, did not leave the place as soon as wanted. In consequence a colored man employed there pushed him violently out, and when on the outside struck him several severe blows on the face. While this was going on, so he states, Mr. Bartlett approached him from behind and struck him over the head with a pistol, making wounds in his cranium from which the blood flowed freely.

The Brink of the Precipice.—We have reports from various quarters that are too well authenticated to be doubted, to the effect that the night parties occasionally held at the bathing resorts of the Utah & Nevada R.R. are as a rule of a decidedly demoralizing character. We are satisfied that ladies who have any self respect or regard for their good names will not participate in them. Persons who have joined in such parties have, we are reliably informed, been guilty of the grossest and most disreputable conduct. We consider it our duty to draw public attention to this fact, that parents may see that their sons and daughters are not led into the vortex of sin by means of these midnight affairs at which the works of darkness are perpetrated, and that the uninformed and unwary little to be led in that direction may be forewarned. We have no reference to the regular bathing train visitors, the great majority of whom are good and respectable people. This allusion is entirely confined to night excursions got up by private parties.

MANUFACTURE OF IRON.

A NEW COMPANY ORGANIZED FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE INDUSTRY.

In another part of the paper appears an advertisement of the Iron Manufacturing Company of Utah, of which Hon. Geo. C. Cannon is President. The organization has been incorporated and perfected under the Territorial laws, and proposes proceeding forthwith in the accomplishment of its object. The plant of the Great Western has been purchased, a number of very extensive and rich iron claims, (in Iron County, Utah), for seven of which U. S. Patents have been obtained, are in possession of the new company, besides a number of coal claims, the product of which is admirably adapted for the manufacture of iron. The first practical operation of the company will be the erection of furnaces for the production of pig-iron, and from that branch will spring those numerous, valuable and lucrative industries that are its natural outflow.

The capital stock of the enterprise has been placed at $200,000, and the shares at one dollar each, to be paid up in full and unassessable.

The placing of the shares at an exceedingly low figure is a judicious provision, as it places the possession of an actual interest in the enterprise within the reach of all classes of the community. There is no industry that should be more popular than this, as it enters into almost every existing avenue of business, and will contribute more extensively than any other to the prosperity and material development of the Territory.

entertaining this positive view we unhesitatingly recommend the people to step forward and take stock in one of the most important and promising enterprises ever established in Utah. We are all the more confident in making this recommendation on account of an unequalled conviction regarding the progress and success of the company.

All who wish to take stock in the company can do so by calling upon the Secretary Mr. John C. Outlier, Constitution Buildings.

Killed on the Utah & Northern.—Coroner Searched returned yesterday about the Divisadero where he held an inquest on the body of Thomas Jackson, who was run over and killed by a hand car on Monday. Jackson was a section hand on the Utah & Northern Railroad. He had been working with his men on the track about three miles from Silver Bow. Retiring to the section house at Buxton, Jackson sat upon the side of the hand car near the front, with his feet hanging over and dragging upon the ties. When about two miles from Buxton, he was thrown off from the car, either by the handles, by which the car is propelled, striking him, or by his feet catching in the ties. His head struck the rail in front of the car, which came upon him with such force as to throw it from the track. His head was terribly crushed and death ensued almost immediately. A singular case of preservation is related in connection with this case. At midnight, the night before his death, Jackson was so sorely pained with the idea that he was going to die, that he arose from bed and going to a neighbor's house, woke him up and bid him write a will which he signed. The deceased was about 50 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children.—Butte Miner.

His Next Lecture.—The following is an extract from the lecture which Mr. Bailey Brown will deliver in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms on Monday.

"The Pilgrim Fathers had no sacred land of liberty, and they escaped the fire of persecution, than they in turn set up as persecutors on their own account, and most admirably they succeeded. This spirit is not dead yet; the old fathers have their descendants and imitators in this country, who although short of much of their power for evil are still actuated by the same spirit."

The Mormons are accused of preferring to give employment to members of their own Church. Now I'd like to know the place where this principle is not acted on whether the test be religion, politics, prohibition, etc. I may add that a Gentile in Salt Lake may express himself much more freely with regard to the Mormons and their religion than he would dare to do in many parts of the country with regard to the political or religious majorities."

The Maid Granger Company.—Next Friday and Saturday, including a matinee on the day last named, the Maid Granger Company will play at the Salt Lake Theatre. The Daily News spoke thus about one of her specialties:

"The new romantic drama, Her Second Love, written by John A. Stevens, was produced at the Winter Theatre last evening. The motif of the play is expressed in the title, and very ably in the idea carried out. The drama is in four acts, and the situations and sequences follow each other with the most natural manner, no single part of the grand whole being inconsequential or unnecessary. The dialogue is bright, the action rapid and the climax strong. Taken all in all, Her Second Love is one of the strongest dramas that has been produced in this city in years, and last night it achieved an unequivocal success."

Eulogistic of Soda.—Mr. Straight of the Oxford Enterprise, has been on a visit of recuperation to Soda Springs, and the following paragraph appeared in that paper in the next issue after his return to the trip:

"There is no kind of doubt but that the waters of the Soda and Iron springs at Soda Springs are the best remedy for dyspepsia and debilitated persons ever tried. If their worth was known throughout the titles of the east hundreds and likely thousands of poor sufferers would come to Soda's fountain and drink of her healing springs."

That is a direct story from one who doubtless took his words straight.

Coming this Way.—This morning we were called upon by Mr. George Vanderhoff, agent for Daly's Company which will play at the Opera House August 15th, 16th and 17th. Mr. Daly is with the company, which is an American and performs American plays. Their chief specialty is "The Passing Regiment," which they played in Chicago every night for four weeks. They also play "The Passing Regiment."

Contemplated Change.—It is expected that on Wednesday, the 8th inst., a change will be made in the running of the trains south on the Utah Central. The train that now merely runs to Provo and back, will run to Juab and return, making two daily trains between the latter point and this city daily.

Robber Caught.—Last week, at Soda Springs, John Dempsey robbed Thomas Arnett of $45. He was subsequently arrested at Montpelier and conducted back to the place where the crime was committed. He had a preliminary examination there, and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

Expects to Go West.—Miss Julia Thomas, the professional educationist, whose recitations and readings have recently charmed the Salt Lake public, expects to leave for California in about two weeks. Her pleasant, agreeable and courteous demeanor as well as her undoubted talent will cause her to take the good wishes with her of a wide circle of friends.

The Burned Bridge.—This morning we received a call from Mr. J. J. Ryan, business manager of Maud Granger Company, who will appear at the Theatre next week. He was delayed in getting here by the burning of the C. P. railroad bridge across the Truckee at Verdi.

Considerable time was lost in transporting passengers and baggage at that point, and the consequent exposure to the broiling sun was exhausting beyond description to those who had to endure it. He states that it will probably be two weeks before the bridge can be reconstructed so as to enable trains to pass over it.

Withdrawal.—It will be learned by a notice in another part of the paper that Brother John C. Searched, heretofore prominently associated with the Co-operative Families Company, whose premises are opposite the Valley House, has withdrawn from that enterprise.

The step was taken with the mutual consent of the parties concerned, and the company will still continue business, holding themselves in readiness to meet the liabilities and collect the assets. The company are receiving new goods and branching out in their operations.

An English Artist.—Mr. Edwin Deskin, an English artist, educated in the art institutions of England and France, is on a visit to this city, intending to stay till October, when he will proceed to San Francisco and New York. He has brought a number of specimens of his professional skill with him. They are arranged in rooms in the Hooper-Edwards block, on the same floor as the Territorial Auditor's office, where lovers of the fine arts can feast their eyes on them. The subjects are varied, and all treated with consummate delicacy and skill, the most striking we may say remarkable, picture being the interior of Westminster Abbey. A view of this picture alone is well worth a visit to Mr. Deskin's studio. The gentleman purposes making some sketches of local subjects.

"Mac" Makes a Suggestion.—The following was handed in this morning:

"Since the disastrous fire which destroyed the Council House, and other buildings adjacent to it, a subject of frequent talk among all classes has been about the probability of replacing the old building, by a larger and handsomer structure. There is manifestly a general desire to see that conspicuous corner filled up with buildings that will be in keeping with the rapidly growing importance of Utah's metropolis, and add to the beauty of our principal thoroughfare."

The old Council House was exceedingly useful, and many pleasing reminiscences are associated with its history in connection with the honored pioneers who built it. It has been in long use for various Church offices and as a place of meeting for the High Council and other quorums of the Priesthood, also for meetings of musical organizations etc. The growth of our population has long since proved that its accommodations were much too limited for present necessities. It will be a satisfaction of regret if another building of a more important and useful nature is to be erected on the same site, or if the old one is simply patched up again. If it were possible for the Church to cover the whole available space on that corner with buildings three or four stories in height, there would hardly be enough rooms or halls provided for the many important purposes to which they could be devoted."

There is no location in the city better adapted than this for Council chambers, where the Priesthood, modeling rooms, music or lecture hall, museum, library, reading rooms, etc. If the members of Mutual Improvement Society, the Seventies, the Stake authorities, musical societies, and other Church organizations, who need halls for meetings or rooms for offices, could unite with the Church in erecting an edifice combining suitable accommodations for all the seemingly large undertaking might be speedily accomplished. The plan of this building could be made to include several stores, the rent which would be derived from them, and possibly from the museum and other portions would likely repay the Church or company a good interest on the cost."

It is a regrettable fact that there are no music or lecture halls in this city; I mean there are none specially arranged for such purposes. There is also a public library or reading room needed, where the people could spend the occasional leisure hours of day or evening, with pleasure and profit. Who can estimate the immense benefit such places would confer upon the young people of our community? The attraction of a well stocked library, comfortable reading room, a popular lecture, musical entertainment or inspection of a properly arranged museum, would undoubtedly tend to keep many of the young and old from being led into, or seeking harmful ways of spending spare moments."

It is, however, unnecessary to enumerate the advantages connected with having such convenient and necessary places built; they are apparent to everybody, and in all probability the erection of such a block of buildings is contemplated to be accomplished as soon as practicable. In writing about these matters I merely express what hundreds of people are talking about, and I join with them in earnestly pleading for the good architectural work contemplated."

If you want good, durable, plain, twilled and dress fabrics, call at the Provo mill agency, Old Constitution Building, also for white, gray, and mottled blankets, shawls, heavy sheeting, woolen yarns, socks and stockings, undershirts and over-shirts, cheap tweeds, etc., etc., trunks, and other home-made goods.

DIRECT FROM THE HARVEST FIELD!

Read What the Farmers of Utah Say of the

Osborne No. 11 Twine Binder

SANDY, Utah, July 31st, 1893.

Messrs. D. M. Osborne & Co., Gentlemen:—Last year I bought a Marsh-Whitney Low Down Binder and felled away the entire season trying to harvest my crop. This year the agent gave me their improved Binder, but like the first, it was a failure and I, together with all my neighboring farmers have become disgusted with the kind of work it does.

Knowing that the Osborne No. 11 Twine Binder was running all around me and doing good work, I went to town yesterday and purchased one. To day it was set in motion and after thorough testing it in short and tall grain alike, I feel like recommending the Osborne to the farmers of Utah, as a machine that will give entire satisfaction.

J. HARDOASTLE.

Mr. Harcastle is my neighbor, and after witnessing the working of both Binders above referred to, I heartily endorse all he has said.

JAMES C. BROWN.

WALKE, Utah, August 1st, 1893.

We, the undersigned, farmers of Sanpete County, this day witnessed the cutting and binding of an Osborne No. 11 Twine Binder, and hereby certify that it did excellent work—the best we ever saw.

We would confidently recommend it to any farmer wishing a Binder and say, buy no other.
