LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Thermometer 97 in the shade at 2 p.m. today.

Services in the Tabernacle.—The congregation was addressed in the forenoon by Bishop Thomas Taylor and A. H. Raleigh, and in the afternoon by Elder Orson Pratt.

Theater.—This evening Mr. George D. Chapin will appear as "Buffalo Bill" in Madden's sensational play of that name.

Telegrams at the Deseret Telegraph office for L. R. Ketchum, N. H. Anderson, and Ralph Bradley.

Music.—This being election day, Capt. Beecher's music band was out and regaled the citizens with some fine music.

Periodicals.—For the "American Agriculturalist" for August, and "Frank Leslie's Budget of Fun" for September, go to Dwyer's book store.

San Francisco Circus.—"The San Francisco Circus and Roman Hippodrome" will open to-night at Little's Lumber yard.

The Hayden Junction, speaking of this company, calls it "the grandest circus ever seen in Ogden," and is very laudatory in praise of the performers.

The tent will be open for the admission of the audience at seven o'clock, and the entertainment will commence at eight.

The advance agent, Mr. Wenban, informs us that a change of programme will be given every night during the stay of the company in this city.

Horse Drawn.—On Saturday afternoon a horse belonging to Brother John Lees, while engaged in raking hay near the Jordan backed into the river, and was drowned.

Spring.—Springs are bursting forth along South Temple Street, a few blocks east of this office, and flooding the road, etc., in that vicinity.

For Deseret Telegraph.—Market at the Mines.

ALTA, Utah, Aug. 5, 9:30 a.m.—Yesterday afternoon the body of a man, named Jacob Hong, who has been missing some six weeks or thereabouts, was found dead near Central City, in the creek bottom, in the brush.

By examination it was found to have been shot through the left breast, the ball very likely passing through his heart.

As yet no murderer has been detected, although, as the inquest comes off to-day, there may be some light thrown on the matter.

Hon. Wm. H. Hooper arrived yesterday at ten o'clock from Soda Springs, where, with his family, he has been residing for the past few weeks.

His life there, building and making other improvements, has required considerable out-door exercise, and his effect upon him has been excellent.

We never saw him appear in better health and spirits than he does in Utah. There has scarcely been a day at Soda Springs that he has not spent several hours in the saddle.

The Captain returns again to his family in a few days. His only object in coming down was to be here at the election, to deposit his vote for the People's ticket, and, while here, to attend to some other business.

EMIGRATION.—The next company, after July 31, will leave Liverpool for Utah on Wednesday, September 4, to be composed only of those having means of their own for their fare and other expenses.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.—About this time and shortly, look out for tremendous sensation dispatches from Salt Lake—they are among the religio-political dogmas of a certain class.

THAT RATIFICATION MEETING.—For two or three days in the latter half of the last week, the walls of the city were placarded with bills calling a meeting of the citizens, on Saturday evening, ostensibly to ratify the nomination by the so-called "Liberal" Party, to be held on the street in front of the Salt Lake House.

The speakers announced to address the citizens were men whose prominent and shameless course in helping to create trouble and to jeopardize the lives of our most prominent and respected citizens, during the progress of the recent judicial fiasco, one would have thought would have induced them to cry "small," and to have kept themselves as much as possible from the public eye.

At the time and place appointed for the holding of the meeting, a large concourse of people assembled, mainly by the "National" brass band being the signal for the procession, to the meeting. A stand for speakers and reporters had been erected on the sidewalk, and as soon as the music ceased a person mounted the rostrum and called the meeting to order, and proposed Mr. Gould for chairman.

Mr. Gould, in a very emphatic and forceful manner, "fancied" they could break up a public meeting in Salt Lake City, they would find themselves mistaken. He then descended and gave way for the chairman.

Mr. Gould had prepared his speech, and he proceeded to read it, commencing by the conventional thanks for the honor, etc., of being called to preside on such an occasion. He then said that the constitution and laws of our country guaranteed to every man the right of free speech, untrammelled, and in a very emphatic manner assured his auditors that he was going to have it, for he was afraid of no man.

His declaration was received with applause and laughter, and after a few minutes' continued, and with frequent interruptions and considerable confusion, finally got through a most lengthy and rambling speech, in which some slight allusion was made to the nominee of the party—the patriot soldier, who had "sacrificed blood and limb" for the honor of the flag, but the main portion of it was devoted to the abuse of the opposition nominee, and the "Mormon" religion and leaders.

The next speaker was Mr. J. H. Mendenhall, who, in a very emphatic manner, called himself notorious by his anti-Mormon ravings here, suddenly made his exit for other parts of the same eddress was more abusive than that of his predecessor, politics and ratiification seemingly being forgotten, as he was being a rapid denunciation of the "Mormon" church and its leaders.

The excitement of the assembly, caused by his vituperations, was very high, and finally the yells, groans, hisses and derisive epithets applied to the speaker became so frequent and the confusion so great, that those who had charge of the meeting thought it best to adjourn to the Institute.

In about half an hour this building was lighted up, and was very soon comfortably filled. Music opened the evening here, as in the street, after which the chairman expressed his sorrow that the right of free speech, evidently meaning the right to utter unmitigated abuse and slander, had been denied to free American citizens in Salt Lake City.

He took pleasure in informing his hearers that he had been expelled from Salt Lake City. During his residence here for three years he had learned to have more charity for his people, and he and his friends were willing to be as kind and kind towards them; but these proceedings would do much to diminish these good feelings. He did not think that those who had interrupted the meeting, to night would do it again, for Utah belonged to the United States, and Camp Douglas was near and his guns booming on this city.

This and the nature of Mr. Mendenhall's given utterance to all of which, of course, was vociferously applauded by the hearers.

The preacher was again introduced and compounded the derangement he commenced on the street, the conclusion being the precise of the "General" and character as the former part of it.

The next speaker was the "General," his speech being a savage denunciation of the "Mormon" religion, and a series of vile epithets characteristic and worthy of the man being freely indulged in when talking of the people of Utah. The violence of the "General" was the extreme, for supremacy, would not yield until victory on one side or the other was gained.

He advised all in political sympathy with him to pay inviolable respect to the rights of the opposition, but to be ready to defend their own.

Lawyer Robertson, formerly of the law firm of Robertson, Strickland, was the last speaker, his address being characterized by the most intense vindictiveness toward the "Mormons."

The chairman of the meeting, as will be seen above, announced that he had telegraphed, east and west, an account of the meeting in the street and judging from the very unenviable character that individual has gained for a meeting when far off, as notorious old German exaggerator Munchausen, there is every reason to expect that said account will be repeated and over colored in a manner worthy of its author; but that, thanks to the gentleman's past labors, will be of little consequence, for in any section of the country, as soon as any other news is transmitted by the Salt Lake agent of the Associated Press, no person will believe it.

We may say in conclusion, that we regret the course taken by the new disorderly persons in the assembly on Saturday night. In calling the meeting on Saturday night the object was evidently to create a disturbance, and not to procure the ratification of the "Liberal" nominee, for very few allusions were made by any of the speakers to that subject. Their object was unambiguously to excite the people by insulting their religion, and making disparaging remarks about their religion; but, even under such circumstances, it is to be regretted that any symptoms of disorder or confusion were manifested. Such persons are really beneath contempt. Had the leading and most honored citizen in any other section of the country, however, been as vilely abused in a mass meeting of his citizens, as were President Young and others on Saturday evening by a "ring" of men whose conspiracy against those same citizens' lives, honor and property had been so recently and disgracefully defeated, everybody knows that the press agents would have had no necessity to exaggerate and falsify his reports to have made them apply.
