

DESERET NEWS DAY AT LAGOON

Big Gathering of Employees at Annual Outing Held Yesterday Afternoon.

288 SEATED IN BANQUET HALL

Of This Number Thirty-Three Men
Have Served the Paper for 15
Years and Over.

If the numerous subscribers of the Deseret News had any fault to find with last night's edition, excuses are hereby tendered, because yesterday was Deseret News day at Lagoon, and in consequence, work was suspended in the various departments shortly after 2 p. m. Early in the day every department was more or less demoralized in consequence.

Through the courtesy of the superintendent of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway, even then the Deseret News special train had to be held until 3:10 p. m., in order to accommodate the stragglers.

It was the general opinion of all who participated in the outing that it was the most successful picnic since the annual observance of Deseret News day was instituted. The thousand daily paper were forgotten and one and all undertook to enjoy themselves to the top of their bent. As Wanda-nere was the resort selected last year, Lagoon was chosen for the 1908 outing. The management of the beautiful Davis county nook certainly did all in its power to make the day a success. By unanimous vote, Mr. Simon Bamberg was absolved from the splendid pyrotechnical display and deluge which unceremoniously closed the proceedings at 9 p. m.

The feature of the day was the banquet, which was served in the summer cafe on the grounds. Caterer Joe Sands entertained the largest party to date at Lagoon, 288 being his official count of the plates and silverware after the festivities had ended.

BIG BANQUET.

The banquet hall was tastefully decorated with cut roses and flowers, with a floral design. "Welcome Deseret News," which was a feature on the west side of the hall. At 6:30, the grand march, headed by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney, and played by the orchestra, commenced, and for the ensuing hour and a half all present discussed the menu, listened to a number of impromptu speeches, and a quartet, and generally enjoyed themselves. Before the speaking commenced, Editor David P. Felt of the Davis County Argus distributed an "extra" wet from the press, with a complimentary feature cartoon on the front page, devoted to the growth of the Deseret News, with a complimentary cartoon devoted to Business Manager Whitney.

George Buckle, foreman of the bindery, acted as toastmaster, and in turn called upon Mr. H. G. Whitney, George E. Carpenter, S. H. Harrow, Isaac Russell and D. P. Felt. They responded, the best speeches being made by the representatives of the business office and the mechanical departments, the latter receiving mention from the business manager on account of the recent verdict of representative newspaper proprietors in New York to the effect that the Deseret News and the Denver Post led all papers in the west when it came to half-tone work.

After the banquet all adjourned to the dance pavilion and just when the prize waltz contest started Jupiter Pluvius hurried a bolt at the power house.

and put out the lights. Everybody then stampeded for the train through the drenching rain.

PROGRAM OF SPORTS.

The program of sports in the afternoon was carried out with aplomb. The first event was an 80-yard free for all swim. This race was of great enthusiasm because Fletcher pulled away from the bunch and won by yards. Carpenter, Young, Wilson and Laxman being the tallenders in the order named.

The boat race was not devoid of interest either, with Russell, Pack, Gardner, Buckle and Rose as the entries. Some weird sculling was in order. Owling to dastardly tactics on the part of Pack, Rose and some other conspirators, Russell was shut out. Gardner got home first after scratching paint off three of the boats. The life saving crew was not called upon despite the fact all were at their stations.

The 100-yard dash was won by Anderson over Gardner, Jensen and Barnes. The committee refuses to print the time.

Gardner won the 200-yard dash in smashing style, while Duncan captured the broad jump from Gardner, Olsen and Jensen. The high jump went to Gardner. Anderson and Olsen were the other entries.

Miss Kate Folsom was declared winner of the ladies' race. Miss Atkinson and Lillie Atkinson and Anna Strom-ness being the other participants.

THE BALL GAME.

The bright and particular event of the night, however, was the five-inning ball game with the composing and job rooms against the rest of the Deseret News establishment. The "type stickers" won to the tune of 6-5 after basely ringing in an unbroken record down the initial sack and piled up the error column in a most scandalous style. Joe Anderson and Fletcher pitched, and the umpire declined to give his name. It would be unkind to criticize the game in detail because some of the boys have not limbered up yet, and the others only play once annually and then take a lay-off from work next day on account of overstrained muscles. Those who were responsible for the hilarity were:

Typesetters. All Departments.
J. Harrow. Squires.
J. Anderson. Fletcher.
A. Ringer. C. Gardner.
L. C. Duncan. A. Wilson.
A. Riser. A. Blunt.
E. Buckle. A. S. G. Geiger.
J. Jensen. L. Young.
H. L. Penrose. H. Thompson.
C. Rose. W. Champney.
The features of the game were a home run by Fletcher, good work at short stop by Geiger, and the work of Anderson in the box.

OLD EMPLOYEES PRESENT.

A poll of the oldest employees present at the outing brought forth some interesting statistics. It was shown that 33 men had worked for the Deseret News for 15 years and over, in some cases, those of S. H. Harrow and Larson for instance, for 30 years. By departments the veterans' roster is as follows:
Editorial—J. M. Sjodahl, George E. Carpenter.
Composing Room—H. S. Harrow, Charles H. Abbott, Robert Aveson, Frank W. Woodbury.

Stereotype Department—Ernest Rob-bins.
Linotype Operators—H. L. Penrose, J. Jensen, H. D. E. Peterson, J. Anderson, J. D. Ford.
Press Room—Will Cowan, H. Pearson.
Mailing Department—E. E. Brown, Circulating—J. T. Dunbar.
Job Composing Room—J. S. Tingey, C. E. Hyde, E. F. Parry, A. S. Cowan, Larson, Pratt, R. B. Sampson, A. C. Busath.
Job Press Room—C. E. Rose.
Book Store—Walter J. Lewis, John Pearce.
Bindery—George Buckle, G. A. Brock, A. Reiser, J. Wickens, W. M. Davis, A. J. Gill.

DELUGE OF SIMPSONS.

Jos. Simpson Arrested by Tom Simpson
On Complaint of Reuben Simpson.

Police Officer Simpson arrested Joseph Simpson last night on the charge of begging from Reuben Simpson. Neither one of the three Simpsons is related to the other.

Reuben Simpson was walking the streets in a peaceable manner when Joseph Simpson stopped him and asked Reuben Simpson for "two-bits." Reuben Simpson declined but Joseph Simpson insisted. Then Reuben Simpson called upon Officer Tom Simpson and the latter arrested Joseph Simpson, who was greatly surprised that Officer Simpson should arrest him just because he asked Reuben Simpson for a quarter. Officer Simpson took Joseph Simpson to the city jail and charged him with vagrancy and Reuben Simpson said he would testify with Officer Simpson against Joseph Simpson.

P. Smith, Elders Rudger Clawson, David McKenzie, Arthur Winter, Hamilton G. Park and George F. Gibbs. The services were conducted by Bishop Robert Morris and music was furnished by the ward choir. Eleanor Jensen Reynolds and Albert E. Bray.
Mrs. Cushing was born Nov. 16, 1854, in Sussex, Eng., and came to Utah in 1847, crossing the Atlantic in the ship Wyoming. For a time she lived with the family of President Daniel H. Wells, later making her home in the household of President Brigham Young. September 13, 1875, she became the wife of James A. Cushing, an employee of the president's office. She was the mother of ten children, seven of whom with her husband survive. Mrs. Cushing was a faithful member of the Church, a teacher in the Relief Society and was highly respected by all who knew her.

STOLEN MONEY ORDERS.

They Are Being Circulated Here And Many Have Been Victimized.

Salt Lake, as well as people elsewhere, are warned against accepting money orders of the series numbered from 4,690 to 4,800. About one week ago the book containing these blanks were stolen from the Schurtz P. O., Nevada, and within the last few days merchants in Salt Lake have been victimized by cashing some of the orders, bearing the forged signatures of postmasters and made payable to fictitious persons.

Several of the forgeries have been turned down at the postoffice, and it is expected that others will be presented in due time. Last Sunday afternoon a book containing at least half of the missing blanks was dropped in the letter box at the local office, and this and the authorities to be on the lookout for crookedness. The postal authorities at Washington were at once communicated with, as was also the postmaster at Schurtz.

Most of the orders are made payable to "Joe Burns" and are signed by "F. W. James," the person signing as being the assignee of the former. The signature "J. Baker" appears in the case for the postmaster to sign, and in most instances the remitter is C. Hawley. So far the following list of defrauded persons has come to light, with probably others to follow:
Utah Liquor company, $25; Heidelberg, $35; S. Salmons, saloonkeeper, $35; Rowe & Kelley, $45; Davis Shoe company, $35; Mullet Clothing company, $25; Lorenzo Williams, Murray, $25; A. Frank, $25; D. A. Markel, $35.

DEATH OF MISS CAUFFIELD.

Well Known School Worker Succumbs To Operations.

Miss J. Catherine Cauffield, a teacher in the Ogden school, died last evening at Holy Cross hospital, shortly after 7 o'clock, from the effects of a tumor. The trouble was of several years' duration, and five weeks ago she underwent an operation. No relief was afforded, and a second operation was performed last Saturday. Miss Cauffield came to Salt Lake in 1895, since which time she taught in the public schools, except for a short period that she was east for special study. After her return, she had charge of manual training at the Ogden. Her work was very efficient and she had a wide circle of friends. A brother, Dr. Edward Cauffield, lives at Kenilworth, O., another brother is at Denver, and a sister, Miss Mary Cauffield, resides in Boise, Ida. The latter was with Miss Cauffield when she died. Services were held this forenoon at Evans' undertaking parlors, and the body will be taken to Kenilworth for burial.

RAILROAD NEWS.

CONDITIONS ALMOST NORMAL.

Freight and Passengers Can Be Handled Between Nearly All Points.

Oregon Short Line officials here have received word from the Great Northern office that traffic has been reopened throughout Montana with a few exceptions. The Oregon Short Line is again in a position to handle freight and passengers between points except on the Montana Central between Flood and Iron and Nailsmith and Fowler inclusive. Passengers and freight can be handled between Helena and Butte now unless delivered via Havre and Virden.

NEW TWO-STATE ROAD.

Alva Adams, a former governor of Colorado, heads the list of managers of the Kansas-Colo. Railway company, incorporated a few days ago in Colorado. The articles provide for the construction of a line from Garden City, Kan., to Canyon City, Colo.; provision is also made for the use of either steam or electricity as motive power.

TRACK LAYING ON.

Each evening sees another half mile of track laid over the route of the Emigration Canyon railroad line. With rails being laid the 14 mile canyon line, being built for coal-hauling and as a resort line, begins to assume the form of a reality. In passing through 10 miles of unsurpassed canyon grandeur this line bids fair to become popular as a pocket edition scenic line.

WESTERN END OPENED.

With no immediate action expected towards inaugurating passenger service on this end of the Western Pacific, passenger service—the first on the new Gould line—has been started on the western end. This service has been opened between Oroville and Berry Creek, a distance of 20 miles.

OFFICERS AND WAREHOUSES.

Oregon Short Line Will Close Shop at Noon Sharp Tomorrow.

The Oregon Short Line will close its offices and freight warehouses at noon tomorrow so employees can participate in the U. C. T. parade and in honor of the opening of the convention's fun. Freight warehouses which are usually closed Saturday will be open on that day this week, because of the closing tomorrow.

W. H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line is expected home from the coast tomorrow morning.

NEW ELECTION DISTRICTS.

Election district No. 81 has been divided by the county commissioners and will hereafter be known as District No. 81 and District No. 98. The line between the districts thus created runs north and south at Markam gulch and Canyon hall, all that portion of territory lying north of this line being known as District 81, and all lying south of the line is included in District 98. Following is the technical description of the boundaries of the districts according to the resolu-

Today is the Anniversary of The Battle of Bunker Hill.

Today is Bunker Hill day, June 17, the anniversary of the fateful day on which the American Colonial force marched on Breed's hill near what is now the Parker House, Boston, to the inspiring tune of "A tuesday-dum-dee, a tuesday-dum-dee." Then the patriots threw up a line of breastworks, from which they poured a warm reception into the hearts of the red coated Brits. The British were so overcome by the prompt cordialities thus freely extended, that they retired and sat down to think the matter over. Three times the minions of the house of Hanover reminded them of the injunction of Henry V. at the battle of Agincourt, "Once more to the breach, ye little friends!" and once more yet again, upward trod the turf of the carnage sodden slope.

Unfortunately for the American patriots hereinafter mentioned, the ordinance officer failed to show up with more ammunition, and they were therefore unable to continue the outflow and outlay of martial courtesies, so "modestly withdrew from the scene." In this they were materially assisted by the warmly hidden guests from abroad, with bayonet accompaniment, and the home talent dispersed without special regard to squad, company, battalion or regimental formation.

tion adopted by the commissioners: "All that portion of the town of Bingham canyon lying in Section 23, township 3 south, range 3 west, Salt Lake meridian, shall be known as election district No. 81. All that part of the town of Bingham canyon lying in sections 26 and 27, township 3 south, range 3 west, Salt Lake meridian, shall be known as election district No. 98."

The incident became a sort of hard and bounds catch-me-if-you-can affair, leaving the red coats of Gen. Gage in possession of the hill. The Americans retired to a considerable distance to mend their fences and institute a hot hunt for the delinquent ordinance department.

The fight is known in history as the battle of Bunker Hill without doubt, but had been listed on the schedule to be pulled off on Bunker's hill by proxy. That is to say, the function occurred on Breed's hill, adjoining; but had been listed on the schedule to be pulled off on Bunker's hill, named after a doughty patriot named Billy Bunker, whose patronymic it thus handed down to posterity for really no reason at all. There is a monument on Bunker hill in commemoration of the event, a monument a sort of a cross between an obelisk and a darning needle. Boston people point with pride to that monument as an everlasting token of the bravery of their ancestors. The life blood of 3,000 or less of King George's men who marched up that hill, and then marched down again, fertilized the grassy slope. On the 17th of every June, there is a procession from Harvard college and Boston university to the Bunker hill monument, where the descendants of those American freedmen sing patriotic hymns, eat ham sandwiches, electricity the multitude with speeches, drink root beer, and wind up with a general acclaim of "God bless the commonwealth of Massachusetts."
