FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM JAIL

Jailer Amos Sebring Choked Into Insensibility and Locked
In Cell.

OTHER INMATES REFUSE TO GO

Two Boys Make Their Escape from the State Industrial School—
Death's Harvest.

Ogden, March 16.—A desperate jail break occurred at the county bastille about 1 o'clock last night, when four prisoners made their escape. The nine other prisoners confined in the jail refused to accept the chance to escape, and some were forced into their cells, to prevent them aiding the jailer. The men who escaped are Harry Blaney, who, presumably, planned the escape. He is the vaudeville actor arrested in East St. Louis a short time ago for the theft of a pair of diamond earrings from an Ogden High school girl; Frank Clark, grand larceny; Fred Brockman, embezzlement; and Jack Conrad, who had but two months yet to serve for a statutory offense.

At the time stated Jailer Amos Sebring went into the main corridor of the prison to lock the prisoners in their cells. As he opened the door of the cage to allow John Lane, a trusty, to enter, Brockman, Conrad, and Clark rushed upon him and, while the jailer cried loudly for assistance one of the men called for a razor to kill him and prevent his giving any further outcry. Sebring was choked until he became unconscious and after being relieved of the jail keys was dragged into one of the cells, formerly occupied by the prisoners and locked in, together with the trusty.

Mrs. G. A. Sebring, wife of the former sheriff, who still occupies the living apartments at the jail, heard her husband's cries and rushed to the jail entrance and closed the main door which the prisoners had opened.

SUCCESS OF B. Y. C. OPERA.

Matinee for Old Folks of Cache—
Death of Mrs. S. D. Erickson.

Special Correspondence.
Logan, Cache Co., March 15.—The students of the Brigham Young college certainly did credit to themselves and brought honors to the college yesterday afternoon and last night when they presented at the opera house Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "Princess Ida." At both performances (the afternoon performance being complimentary to the old folks of Cache) the house was filled to capacity, and judging from the frequent applause and encores the choruses and individual solos received, the efforts of Prof. W. O. Robinson in undertaking the presentation of this production by amateurs were not in vain and brought excellent results. It is a question in the minds of many if the drills on the part of the chorus boys and girls could have been improved upon. The unique costuming was also a feature worthy of considerable praise. The strong choruses were well supported by the individual solos and especially by D. E. Reese of southern Utah as Hilarion, the son of the king. His graceful stage appearance and sweet tenor voice captured the house. Miss Carrie Thomas as Princess Ida, Asa Bullen and C. A. White, Hilarion's friends, Miss Edith Bowen, as Lady Blanche, and Miss Irene Hendrickson as her daughter, all performed their respective roles very commendably.

The opera company will play at Brigham City tomorrow evening, at Richmond Wednesday evening and again at the Thatcher opera house Thursday.

DEATH OF DEVOTED MOTHER.
Mrs. Sophia Danielson Erickson of Preston, Idaho, 66 years old, who has been living here that her children may attend school at the B. Y. college, died this morning of heart trouble and will be buried at Preston Wednesday morning.

Why Maple?

Why do we use Maple Syrup?
Not a mixture of cane syrup and maple, but the pure Vermont maple. We boil it into the wheat before flaking.

The main reason is—the children. They like the flavor of the maple better than anything else that is good for them.

We are making a food which we know to be the best for them. Isn't it wise, for all concerned, to induce them to like it?

Maple-Flake is the perfect food.

It is so because of our process, consuming 96 hours. Because we spend six hours in steam-cooking. Because of our method of curing. Because we toast the thin flakes, for 30 minutes, in a heat of 400 degrees.

There are numerous wheat foods—numerous flaked foods. But we spend four times the time that some others spend in the preparing.

The result is, the starch is digestible.

Raw starch gives scarcely more nourishment than chalk. Half-cooked starch yields half its possible nourishment. But from Maple-Flake you get the benefit of every atom of food that is in it.

What if Maple-Flake does cost 15 cents, while other flakes cost 10 cents? The cream costs the same on both. And the cream cost is more than the food cost.

Maple-Flake is all food because it all digests. Isn't it more economical than a food that's half food—a food that but half digests?

Besides, the starch that doesn't digest is bound to ferment and breed germs. That is why we spend those 96 hours in preparing Maple-Flake.

"It's All Food"

In the hospital. During the Liberal administration in Ogden he served in the city council. For years Mr. Paine has been one of the trustees of the Methodist church.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 11 o'clock at the Methodist church. The body will lie in state at the church, between 10 and 11 o'clock the day of funeral. The funeral will be at 11 o'clock at the church, for burial.

The angel of death visited the home of John and Gwen Williams Evans yesterday noon, taking from them their little 2-year-old son Vernon, who has been ill a week with diphtheria and scarlet fever. The family has been sorely afflicted the past three weeks with the dreaded disease, all of the family having been ill with it, and at the present time Mrs. Evans and a little girl are confined to their beds with the terrible affliction.

As no public funeral could be held, Bishop D. H. Edwards arranged for a short service to be held on the lawn in front of the home at 2 o'clock this afternoon and burial was made in the Ogden city cemetery.

Saturday evening John W. Hooper, after an illness of some time, from stomach trouble, died at the home at 10 o'clock. He was 59 years, 6 months and 4 days. He was a native of Salt Lake City, and was a member of the church. He was a wife and six sons and two daughters, also 12 grandchildren. He was born in Bristol, England, in 1848; joined the Latter-day Saint faith in 1870, and emigrated to Utah with his parents in 1874, located in Salt Lake City, then later in Kaysville, Davis county, and moved to Weber county in 1888, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was one of the pioneers of the county; a faithful Latter-day Saint, and a prominent member of the community in which he resided. Funeral services will be held March 18, at 2 o'clock p. m. from the Hooper ward meetinghouse. Interment in the Hooper cemetery.

TWO INDUSTRIALS ESCAPE.
Let Themselves Down from Third Story Window With a Rope.

Ogden, March 14.—A break also occurred at the state reform school early this morning between 1 and 3 o'clock, when two of the inmates escaped from the third story of the building by means of a rope let down from one of the windows. How they had got the rope and succeeded in hiding it is a mystery. One of the boys who escaped is Arthur Wilson, who was committed from Eureka for burglary, and one of the toughest characters in the school; the other is Stewart Harris, an incorrigible from Ogden. They left no trace by which the officers can recapture them.

HARVEST OF THE REAPER
James G. Paine, Vernon Evans and John Hooper Called.

James G. Paine passed peacefully from mortality yesterday at the home of his business partner, J. T. Hurst, 2335 Adams avenue, after a protracted illness resulting from paralysis and a general breaking down of his health. He was 74 years of age on the day of his death. A wife and one daughter, Miss Emma Ruth Paine, together with two sisters and a host of friends, survived him. Mr. Paine has been a resident of Ogden during the past 20 years, coming here from Idaho, where he had been in the cattle business. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having served during the last three years of the Civil war as steward entered into for the planting of about 800 acres of sugar beets, and many more contracts have been made up since that time. The farmers expect to plant about 1,000 acres of beets. Some of the farmers discussed the advisability of demanding $4.50 per ton for their beets, but on account of the money stringency thought best to accept the old price, viz., $4.25 per ton, for the year 1908. The farmers of Wellsville have been forming an organization, for mutual benefit, and have been holding meetings in many of the towns and cities in Cache county, trying to have them also organized, so that they might be able to demand a better price for the products of the farm.

The remains of William Wardrop, who committed suicide in Curlew, Nev., last week, arrived in Wellsville yesterday morning, and will be buried there today at the residence of Mrs. Kate Garrett, a sister of the deceased.

There are about 40 or 50 cases of measles in town.

Marie Maughan, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Maughan, is very sick, with heart trouble and pneumonia.

John Woodward of this city is smiling today; a fine baby girl arrived at his home yesterday.

MORGAN.
MORGAN COUNTY AFFAIRS.
New Roads and Bridges—Petition to Unite School Districts.

Special Correspondence.
Morgan, Morgan Co., March 13.—The monthly meeting of the county commissioners was held here on Monday, March 9.

C. G. Porter informed the county board that the citizens of Porterville were now ready to complete the new road opened up by the late Earl Robinson's residence; stating that if Morgan county would bear one-half of the expense toward completion of said road, the citizens of Porterville would do the balance of the work to the satisfaction of the county board. An appropriation not to exceed $100 was made by the board toward the construction and completion of said road.

A petition was presented by John Green and 12 other citizens of Peterson school district, praying the court to unite Peterson and Mt. Green into one school district. But as the petition was signed only by taxpayers from Peterson school district, it was tabled for further information.

The board decided to build a new bridge over Cottonwood creek. The matter was turned over to Commissioner Butters with power to act.

Dr. LeRoy Pugmire was appointed by the commissioners to attend the annual convention of health officers to be held in Salt Lake City, April 2, 1908.

Bills aggregating $457.03 were allowed, and court adjourned until April 13.

The three steel bridges recently erected at Peterson, Canyon creek, and Lost creek, by O. H. Randall and F. W. Clark, are now completed and have been accepted by the county board.

pathy for her husband, L. H. Redd, and the family.

Her demise was very unexpected, occurring on the 2nd inst., after an illness of eight days, through an attack of pleuro-pneumonia.

Mrs. Redd was born Oct. 8, 1848, in Salt Lake City, and in her youth passed through the trying scenes of semi-famine in the early settlement of Utah. Left without a mother's care at the early age of seven years, she was the devoted helper of her aged father, Solomon Chamberlain, who was one of the first members of the Church, being a member when it was organized, and a most zealous worker for the cause of God. At the age of 17 she married Lemuel H. Redd, who survives her. She is the mother of 14 children, all of whom, except the first two, are still living. One son, Burton Redd, is now absent as a missionary in Central Mexico, serving as counselor to the president of that mission.

In 1861, while residing on the Santa Clara, in southern Utah, with her father, who had deceased, she was 12 years of age, a flood came down the river too suddenly to give them time to escape to the hillsides, obliging them to climb trees for safety. She helped her father, who was about 80 years of age, to climb a firm, to climb into a tree, while she climbed another. Thus they remained, clinging desperately to the trees while the furious torrent surged around them all that day, all night long and until about noon of the next day, when they were rescued, but none too soon, for in a short time both trees were carried away by the flood. But this fearful experience was too much for the father's feeble body and his death speedily ensued.
