

DEBONAIR YOUTH HAS NEW ADDRESS

What it is Would be Good News
To a Host of Local People.

HIS WIFE IS IN THE LIST.

She is Still a Bride and Does Not Know Where He Is—He Had Great
Scheme to Fight Capital.

Robert T. Whitney, debonair and affable, prolific in making friends and smooth in working them, is much sought after by scores of people living in Salt Lake City. Among this number is a bride of a few months who is anxious to learn the whereabouts of her errant spouse. With the others it is not an affair of the heart, however, but rather an affair of the purse. It is said that Whitney owes the people whom he worked by bad checks and loans over $2,000.

When Whitney first came to the city last fall he represented himself as a graduate of Harvard and secured a position on a local paper. In the course of a month or two he ascertained that he was not cut out for newspaper work, or rather such fact was ascertained by those who employed him.

A NICE JOB FOR HIM.

Whitney made reservation for a nice place of the pie himself. He was to receive one per cent of the money, and besides this he was to be president of the concern at an annual salary of $10,000. He figured that within three years his one per cent would net him something like $100,000, besides his $20,000 salary, for those three years. In December he met a young lady, fell violently in love, and shortly afterward married her. Everything went well with Whitney for a while. He received, it is said, $1,000 from his bride as a wedding gift, but this he "blew in" like a sailor on shore leave. Everybody was his friend and everybody he treated, who would be everybody.

After selling the office furniture without consulting the young man whom he had taken in as a partner, some of money from every friend he could touch, and, writing, had checks in number, Whitney left for the east, ostensibly to present his union bank scheme before President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and John Mitchell, vice president of the same organization. Most of the checks were cashed the night before he left the city. From a prominent local man, who holds a high position, he secured a letter of introduction to Senator Smoot. On arriving in Washington, it is said, he tried to borrow $100 from Senator Smoot, but the Utah man refused to be taken in. While in Washington Whitney wrote one letter to his wife and that was the last heard from him. Since then Mrs. Whitney has been forced to earn her living as best she might.
