MAYOR'S ASPHALT VETO SUSTAINED.

But Members First Exonerate Themselves From Fancied Accusation.

MATTER CAUSED MUCH DEBATE

Statements, Explanations and Affidavits Enter Into an Evening of Clearing Up Controversy.

For over two hours last evening the city council, in committee of the whole, considered the charge, made by Mayor Morris in his veto of the purchase of the R. M. Pope asphale property at Westwater for $4,000, to the effect that the same property had previously been offered to the special asphalt committee for $1,000. Evidence pro and con was introduced and the matter was thoroughly investigated. As a result the council vindicated the members of the committee from the stigma which they claimed was cast upon them by the mayor's statement, and in the next moment it sustained the mayor's veto on the proposition.

When the committee of the whole was called to order, A. J. Davis was chosen as chairman. The mayor's veto was read but upon a point of order being raised by Fernstrom, the chairman ruled that the veto was not under consideration by the committee.

W. G. NEBEKER HEARD.

Martin's resolution providing for an investigation of the charge made by the mayor in his veto was read, after which Black asked that W. G. Nebeker be heard on the matter, as it appeared that Mayor Morris had obtained his information from him. Mr. Nebeker was given the privilege of the floor and was asked by Black if he ever directly offered the Pope property to the special asphalt committee for $1,000. There was some dispute as to whether or not Mr. Nebeker should be allowed to go into detail in the matter, but it was finally decided that he could do so, and he then made the following statement:

"The night that Mr. Mahler and his attorneys and others addressed the committee of the whole, asking for a franchise for his interurban road, I waited here till 11 o'clock. I then got the asphalt committee together. They were in a hurry to catch the car, so I was as brief as possible. At that meeting the Clark proposition was acted upon favorably. I stated that if they wanted cheap asphalt, I could offer them a choice of 160 acres in the Book Cliffs, which I was empowered to offer for $1,000.

"A few days previous to this, Mr. Pope was introduced to me by Joe Ray. He gave me to understand that he wanted to get into my deal. The inference that I drew was that if he could get part of the money that was coming on the Clark deal, he would not introduce his offer. I introduced him to Mr. Clark, who refused to consider the proposition Mr. Pope made to him.

"I told Mr. Pope that night that I would submit his offer to the committee but in doing so I did not use Pope's name, and gave no other description of it than that it was in the Book Cliffs. At that time I did not know it as the Pope property. It was not formally offered to the council for $4,000 until the following Monday night. Pope wanted me to put it in with my property at $1,500, and keep $500 of that amount for my trouble. I refused to do this, and told him that I would offer it to the city for $1,000."

FERNSTROM'C CONTENTION.

Fernstrom undertook to show by newspaper reports that the committee meeting referred to by Nebeker was several days after the Pope proposition of $4 000 had been formally submitted to the council. Nebeker showed, however, that the committee meeting was held on Oct. 5, and that the $4,000 proposition was submitted to the council on Oct. 10.

LAWSON SAYS "NO."

A. F. Lawson, who represented Mr. Pope and who is interested in the Pope property, was then allowed to make a statement in which he said that neither he nor Pope had ever offered their property to any one for $1,000 or for any sum less than $4,000, and that they had never authorized any one else to offer it for any sum less than $4,000. He said that he had never heard of the $1,000 offer until it was brought out in the mayor's veto.

INTERROGATED BY THE MAYOR.

Mayor Morris then asked Mr. Lawson a number of questions in regard to the name of his company, and whether or not the assessment work had been done on his claims. The mayor said that he had been informed by the county recorder that the assessment work had not been done on the property of the Westwater Oil & Asphalt company, which he thought was the name of the company owning the Pope property. Lawson said that the name of his company is the Puritan Mining & Asphalt company, and that the assessment work has been done on its claims.

POPE AFFIDAVIT.

Mr. Lawson then had the recorder read the affidavit of R. M. Pope, in which he denied ever having offered his property for $1,000.

WHEN OFFER WAS MADE.

Milo Clark was then called and stated that on the night of the committee meeting, Pope came to him and wanted him to put the Pope property in with his and swell the price of the Pope claim from $1,000 to $1,500. This he refused to do. He said that he was present when Mr. Nebeker offered the Pope property to the committee for $1,000, but that Mr. Nebeker did not tell the committee whose property it was or where it was located other than it was in the Book Cliffs.

NEVER HEARD OF IT.

Martin then stated that as far as he was concerned he had never heard of any proposition to sell asphalt to the city for $1,000 until the mayor's veto came out. He asked for expression from other members of the committee.

Tuddenham was not a member of the committee, but he was present at the meeting mentioned and heard the offer of Mr. Nebeker. He said that Nebeker stated that if the committee wanted something cheaper he could get one for $1,000. He did not name the property or give its location.

AS ARGUMENT ONLY.

Fernstrom said that his impression was that Nebeker merely used the $1,000 proposition, which he called a cheap proposition, as a matter of argument in favor of his own claim, and that he did not make a bona fide offer at all and did not tell where the property was or to whom it belonged. Nebeker, in answer to Fernstrom, said that he did make a bona fide offer of the property to the committee for $1,000.

WANTED TO DROP IT.

Hartenstein then moved that the whole matter be dropped and that the committee rise. Hewlett opposed the motion and said that several prominent business men had said to him that the members of the asphalt committee were either grafters or fools. He thought that the mayor's charge was unwarranted and should be withdrawn.

BLACK'S RESOLUTION.

Black then introduced the following substitute resolution:

Resolved, That after a thorough investigation we find that the charge made in the mayor's veto is entirely without foundation in every particular, and that the Pope asphalt claims were never offered to the special asphalt committee for $1,000 or any other sum less than $4,000.

Martin favored the resolution and said that, while the mayor probably meant no disrespect to the committee or the council, still the charge was there and had been taken up and given considerable notoriety by the papers. He said that evidently the mayor had based his statement on one man's word. He thought in view of the evidence on the subject the mayor should withdraw his charge.

WHAT MAYOR SAID.

In reply Mayor Morris said that several other men besides Nebeker had told him of the offer. He said that he meant no charge of disrespect towards the members of the committee or the council but that he did not feel like withdrawing any of his statement at all.

NO WHITEWASH.

Fernstrom objected to any such statement being made by the mayor and he demanded of the council that it either say that the charge was true or that it was untrue. He did not want the matter whitewashed. In view of the evidence he said that it was due to the committee to say that the charge was untrue, and that it never received a bona fide offer from any one to sell the Pope property for $1,000. He said that the mayor's charge cast a stigma on the members of the committee and he would not stand for it as it was uncalled for and untrue.

HAD BEEN EXONERATED.

Wood and Hobday both contended that the committee had certainly been exonerated and they favored the adoption of the resolution. Hobday stated that it looked rather cheap for Nebeker to come in now after his proposition had gone through and try to knock out the Pope proposition.

THE VOTE TAKEN.

A vote was then taken on Black's resolution and it was adopted by a vote of 8 to 4. Those who voted for the resolution were Black, A. J. Davis, Dean, Fernstrom, Hobday, Martin, Wood and Hewlett. Those voting against it were Barnes, Hartenstein, Preece and Tuddenham. The absentees were E. H. Davis, Wells and Neuhausen.

VOTE SUSTAINED.

When the vote was taken in regular session on the mayor's veto it was sustained by a vote of 5 ayes to 7 noes, Dean, Hobday, Martin, Wood and Hewlett voted aye and Black, Barnes, A. J. Davis, Fernstrom, Hartenstein, Preece and Tuddenham voted no. Black and A. J. Davis voted to sustain the veto because they were opposed to the purchase of the asphalt land in the first place. Fernstrom explained his vote in favor of the veto by saying that he was perfectly willing to give up his share of the $3,000 which the committee would have got if the report was correct that the Pope property was offered to the committee for $1,000. The result of the vote showed that two-thirds of the council was not in favor of passing the measure over the mayor's veto.

A NEW PROPOSITION.

Another new asphalt proposition was submitted to the council by Dr. Clarence Barrett, secretary of the Paraffine Oil company. He offered to sell the right to mine his property, located 63 miles from this city, for $2,500, or to deliver asphalt to the city on the cars for $2.25 per ton. The communication was filed.

STOKER TROUBLE ENDS.

The controversy between P. J. Moran and the city over the installation of a stoker in the city jail furnace was brought to a close last night by Moran agreeing to install the stoker for $915, the amount that the American Stoker company originally bid on the stoker with addition of the cost of changing the boiler fronts, and installing. The council ordered Moran to proceed with the work at once.

ANOTHER VETO SUSTAINED.

The council sustained Mayor Morris' veto of the liquor license of James Fedesco, at 209 west Second South street. The reason for the veto is that the saloon will be located within less than 300 feet of a school building.

A report was received from Building Inspector Lewis, stating that there are 10 stores in the business district which have bay windows projecting out on the sidewalk over the property line, and four firms that have show cases out on the sidewalk. He also reported that pillars for the new front to the National Bank of the Republic are being constructed of wood, instead of iron, as the ordinance requires. The matter was referred to a committee for consideration.

J. S. Kelly was appointed as a special policeman by Chief of Police Lynch to serve without pay from the city. The appointment was confirmed.

Afraid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. Rev. Amos Parker of Magnolia, North Carolina, suffered for eight years with a lame hip, due to severe rheumatic pains. He has been permanently cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by all druggists.

THE FEBRUARY TERM.

Judicial Grind for That Month is Now Under Way.

The February term of the supreme court commenced yesterday when the following cases were argued and submitted: State of Utah, appellant, vs. John W. Coleman; Max Davidson vs. E. A. Munsey, appellant. In the former case the defendant was charged with administering poison to an animal. On the trial of the case Judge Lewis held that inasmuch as it was not shown by the evidence that the defendant killed the dog through malice towards the owner of the animal, the act of administering the poison was not a crime within the meaning of the statute. Hence Coleman was discharged and an appeal from the ruling of the court was taken by the state. Asst. Atty.-Gen. White and former Dist. Atty. Smith argued the case in behalf of the state and Atty. Ray Van Cott appeared for Coleman.

The report of the referee, Judge George F. Goodwin, in the Ricy H. Jones disbarment proceedings was received by the court and the hearing on the same was set for Feb. 17. Atty. Jones was charged with champerty and forgery and the referee's report exonerates him of such charges.

Upon the recommendation of the committee for bar examiners the following attorneys were admitted to the bar of this state: Edward Benzley, Randolph, Utah; Benjamin C. Call, Brigham City; J. G. Jorgensen, Richfield; Ernest M. Dunn and R. A. McBroom, Salt Lake.

The appeals in the cases of the Bingham Consolidated Mining and Smelting company, appellant, vs. the Gold and Copper company of Bingham, and Heber J. Bullock vs. the American Smelting and Refining company, appellant, were dismissed by the court.

The following cases were ordered continued for the term; John McCready, appellant, vs. the Rio Grande Western Railway company; John T. Mitchell vs. H. C. Jensen et al, appellants. The case of the Washington Rock company vs. Le Grande Young et al, appellants, was continued until Feb. 23.

Defendant Won.

The jury in the case of Etta S. Reed against the Utah Light and Railway company which was tried in Judge Ritchie's court on Friday and Saturday of last week, has returned a verdict finding the issues for defendant. The action was brought to recover $5,000 damages for personal injuries received by plaintiff, on April 19, 1904, by being thrown from a Second South street car, on Fifth East street.

New Forgery Charges.

Three new complaints have been issued by the county attorney against M. H. Barnett charging him with forgery. It is charged that he forged the name of P. J. Moran to a check for $10.20 and passed the same on W. J. Dowell, and that he also forged Moran's name to a check for $6. The third complaint charges that he forged the name of Charles Read to an order for $10 on the Wilson hotel, and that he passed the same and realized on it from Mrs. Louise McCarty. There are two or three other complaints against Barnett charging him with forgery.

Accounting Wanted.

J. J. Woods has filed suit in the district court against Henry Newell to compel him to render an accounting of funds received as the sale of certain mining property located in the Uinta district, Summit county. Plaintiff alleges that he gave defendant a deed to said claims but that he merely intended it for a mortgage to secure the loan of $40 made to him by defendant. It is claimed that defendant sold the property for about $2,000 and plaintiff asks that he be made to account for the same.

COURT NOTES.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Nellie T. Rasche against Patrick Rasche on the ground of failure to support. They were married in this city on Jan. 6, 1892, and have one child of which plaintiff asks the custody.

ROBBERY OR ACCIDENT?

Question Raised as to Whether Rohn Was Held Up at All.

Was Andrew Rohn dreaming or was it true? Rohn is the man who came in on a load of junk from Bingham Junction Sunday afternoon and reported at Murray that he had been held up and robbed by two bold highwaymen. Marshal Mike Mauss of Murray says he thinks Rohn had been drinking too heavily, and that he was simply so dead with the liquor that he fell from his wagon and sustained the injuries which he laid at the door of the bold robbers.

According to the story of Marshal Mauss, Rohn was seen driving towards Murray on his heavily loaded wagon in such a drunken state that he could hardly retain his seat. He thinks it is from these oft repeated falls that his head became such a mass of cuts and bruises rather than from blows rained on his head by the robbers with the butts of their big revolvers.

Sheriff Emery and Deputy Beckstead are of the same opinion as to the cause of the man's injuries, they having made a thorough investigation of the route and the man's story.

Rohn has been taken to St. Mark's hospital where every thing that can be done is being done to aid the man in recovery.
