BASKIN has had his say before the House Committee on the Judiciary. He is the representative of the hungry seekers after office and the control of hindering the progress of this Territory. If sensible members of that committee can put aside for the time being the prejudices which they may have entertained against the very name of "Mormon," and take a scrutinizing glance at the cause which Mr. Baskin represents, they cannot fail to be both amazed and disgusted.

Here is a Territory that has been built up from the barren ground by a community that are famed for their thrift, honesty, temperance, frugality and union. They have managed to keep it out of debt and to bring it into all the conditions contemplated in the institutions of the country to render it suitable for Statehood. There is one popular objection to them. Some of their number believe in marrying more wives than is the orthodox number, and practice what they believe But these have been deprived of all active participation in the government of the Territory. The remainder, forming a very large majority of all the voters, cannot be charged with this peculiarity that gives so much offense to some exceedingly (sensitive people. This matority by their ballots are able was not so crooked, nor the fires of This majority, by their ballots, are able to elect their friends to the few local offices in the conthe flagrant outrages perpetrated upon them in the sacred name of law and trol of the people. They will not vote for their enemies. This exasperjustice has been, so far as I know, so patient, submissive, and Christ-like, that my sympathy for them has broadates the minority of the minority. That is to say, a few of the non-"Mormon" ened and deepened. All the storles and romances with which Mr. Baskin is charged, are fabricated and to be used for this end and purpose. Such a monstrous proposition would not be listened to for a moment in regard to any other people. Matters in general do not seem t It is an ancient saying confirmed by improve with us here in the East. The labor troubles are growing more and more serious. Illinois still preserves many experiences, and which, your present suffering will yet further cor-reborate, that the blood of the marthe palm for her superiority in riotous tyrs is the seed of the church; and the reason of it, to me, is evident; viz. that the good elements in human nature survive and outgrow the bad. One thing is to be feared from the present troubles in this country, and that is that democracy in Europe will receive a severe check. Its opponents Campbell and George Goddard corresin England always maintained that democracy carried out in the shape it has been for the last 25 years would re-sult in anarchy. And there was much reason for this prediction. Here we had a newsapper enlarging on the ponding secretaries. For some reason there were no practical measures of active results from this organization. The regular monthly Union meetings sult in anarchy. And there was much reason for this prediction. Here we had a newspaper enlarging on the horrors of stealing human beings and selling them. This was all very just, but then that same paper contained an article or an essay, stolen from the brain of a Frenchman or Englishman, and most unblushingly sold on the public street. Any man would rather selt ne-gro flesh than British brains any time. It was the same way with Communism. This same paper dubbed literally crowded with persons unable to gain admittance. One would naturally answer, the Upper House in Washing ton ought to be one agency; and that instinctive spirit of mental activity and progressive expansion said to be characteristic of democracy ought to de-velop an intellectual aristocracy which would be the other most potent agency. Is the Senate doing its duty? Hear Logan dragging up detestable war memories on every occasion, hear In-galls analyzing Barney Coroy; hear Edmunds growling about a Maine postmaster; hear Cullom with his parent, and resulted in a unanimous expression by all present, that an instrument should be pur-chased, paid for, and be the prop-erty of the Sunday School teachers of Sait Lake Stake school-boy platitudes on inter-State commerce; Lear Hoar and his Puritan anti-"Mormon" ideas; then ask is the Senate setting a high ideal? Think of it! After the hardy ploneers and their immediate followers have subdued the soil and made the country habitable, established good order. and forced out of the sterile soil good food and comfortable dwelling places for man and beast, a few scheming adventurers come among them and attempt to gain complete control. Unsble to effect this by either ordinary or extraordinary methods, they now boidly ask Congress to take away from the large majority, the owners of the soil, the working elements, the very body of the community, all political rights and privileges, that they, the plotters, the conspirators, the professional politicians, the ex-officials, place-hunters, bummers and beats, may walk into power, tax the people who are to have no representation, and spend their money at will!

Remember, polygamy, the great hobgoblin of frightened fogies and smug-faced Pharisees cuts no figure in this question. The voters are none of them polygamists. It is simply a proposition to give these few conscienceless and unscrupulous adventurers, political control of the Territory of Utah for their individual use and benefit. And a congressional committee can listen to pleadings for such an infamous scheme for two mortal hours!

We do not believe, however, that it will have any serious effect. The people's side of this important question will be properly presented, and the ring delegate will have his laborand his fee-for his pains. Such a barefaced scheme to un-Americanize a Territory of the Union, and give a prosperous commanity over to oppression and plunder, has never before been concocted since the foundations were laid of the Gouernment of the United States.

As it appears certain that neither District Attorney Dickson, Judge Zane nor the grand jury of this district will pay any attention to the robbery of the United States mails, which has come to public notice through thei publication in the Salt Lake Tribune of a letter sent by Mr. Fordham of Franklin, Idaho, to Mr. Best of this city, which the latter never received and which there is every reason to believe was stolen from the mails, it becomes necessary for the public protection that some measures be adopted to obtain a have compelled their attendance.
