FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

The money market is growing tighter. Here's a chance for a punster.

The High Council will meet in the Social Hall at seven o'clock this evening.

Montrose, who was shot at Soda Springs several days since, is convalescent.

The arrival of carp was too much for the Herald man. He is carping at everything.

"Romany Rye" at the Opera House next week. See elsewhere for particulars.

Two men charged with stealing overcoats were before the Police Court this afternoon.

A case of assault and battery was taken in hand by the police to day, and will come up for trial to-morrow.

The performance of "The Belle," announced for Saturday night, has been it is said, indefinitely postponed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Alford and family circle are rejoicing on account of the advent of another juvenile male member of their household.

The store now occupied by Donelson Bros., 116 East Temple Street, south, is to lease for a term of years. Apply to Spencer Clawson, Hooper & Eldredge block.

"Corale," for the benefit of William Derr, the veteran laundier of the Salt Lake Theatre, is billed in bright colors, and advertised in this evening's News.

A new discovery of coal has been made in the Wasatch Mountains, within twenty miles of the city. The workings were found close to the creek in one of the canyons.

Mr. J. E. Clark, late of the Business Lunch Stand, has opened business for himself at 43 and 45 E. Second South Street, where he will serve lunch from 12 till 3 o'clock, and meals to order at all hours. See advt.

Logan has an old man named Hedgum, who has several times beaten his half-witted, grown up daughter in a shameful manner. The other day an Irish neighbor, seeing him at it, gave him a good pummeling.

The rush in freight matters consequent on the reduction of rates, is over. A few merchants think they have benefited, ten thousand farmers feel that they have been injured, and the public at large regret that it is over.

The drug department of Z. C. M. I. are agents for this valuable preparation—Harold's. It is called "It is here, it is here." Then your singular objection to a plural verb after a collective noun "falls like Lucifer, never to hope again." Next.

We call attention to the advertisement of Cohn Bros., which appears in our columns. They announce to the public that they are prepared to furnish a better class of goods for less money than can be obtained elsewhere. They invite the public to call and see them before making their purchases.

Bamberger & Co. notify the public through our columns that they are closing out, positively regardless of cost, their entire stock of Ladies' Hosiery and Fancy Goods, Silk Handkerchiefs, Notions of every variety, Blankets, Jewelry embracing all the latest novelties, and also draw attention to the great assortment of Gentlemen's Hats and the celebrated Libby Shirt.

Mr. John C. Fowler, of Denver, Col., dealer in advertising cards, stage novelties, etc., called for day. His goods are certainly unique and admirably adapted for advertising and holiday purposes. Mr. Fowler has already taken some large orders and intends calling on some of the prominent business houses with samples of his ware. The gentleman can be found at his rooms in Valley House Cottage, next door to the Museum.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Don Voyago.—Mr. W. S. McCormick, banker of this city, takes his departure this evening for Europe, to join his family in Dresden, Germany. Some eighteen months ago, Mr. McCormick crossed the water for the purpose of accompanying them to their destination. He now goes to remain with them about three months, prior to their return to Utah.

Utah and Northern Freight Matters.—A few weeks ago an item appeared in this paper, having the Utah Journal as its origin, so far as the subject was concerned, relating to the alleged discriminations in freight matters by the U. P. railway corporation against the people of Cache Valley. Mr. B. F. Cumming, editor of the Journal, during his last visit to the city stated in the hearing of a News reporter that he had had an interview with Mr. F. R. McConnell, General Freight Agent of the Union Pacific Railway (the latter road controlling the Utah and Northern), and that a satisfactory adjustment of the matters complained of by our northern neighbors, was probable.

The latest issue of the Journal announces a visit by Mr. McConnell to Logan, with the intention of ascertaining the nature and extent of the grievances of the people of Cache County and the North, and the probable design of using his influence to ameliorate the present unsatisfactory condition of things, so far as lies in his power. He was taking pains to ascertain the feelings of business men in that region in regard to freight matters, and our contemporary thinks it will tend to a better understanding between them and the Union Pacific Company, which will redound to the advantage of both.

Paralysis Again.—On Sunday November 11th, at Morgan City, Brother Daniel Bull, a well known citizen of that place and an old-time veteran of the Chicago fire, fell a victim to paralysis. He was in the 70th year of his age, and had had not only a long life, but an eventful one as well.

He was born September 16th, 1814, at Birmingham, Warwickshire, England, and was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in September, 1814, by elder George Billee. He emigrated to Nauvoo in the following year, where he worked at gunsmithing. He was among the number detailed to guard the city against the mob, and made a cannon from a steamboat shaft for its defense.

He afterwards moved to Quincy, Illinois, and finally arrived in Salt Lake City, October 22d, 1840, where he resided in the Old Fort, and also moved into the first house built in the Fifteenth Ward. He was a member of the Nauvoo Brass Band, under Captain Pitt, likewise one of Captain Ballou's Brass Band, and for years was Captain of the Morgan City Band. He moved to that place in 1861.

On the 24th of May, 1875, he was ordained a High Priest, and on August 30th, 1873, was chosen First Counselor to the President of the High Priest's Quorum. He was stricken with paralysis, which deprived him of the use of his right side and his speech, on the Sunday before his demise. He died in full faith of the Gospel, surrounded by his relatives and friends.

The Model Printer.—By courtesy of Mr. Herbert Pembroke, dealer in printers' materials, we have been permitted to glance through a recent number of the American Model Printer, edited and published by Wm. J. Kelly, at 230 Pearl Street, New York.

As its name would indicate, it is a journal devoted to the typographic art and kindred trades, and contains, in addition to a variety of editorial articles, others on such leading subjects as the Job Room, the Press Room, the Foundry, etc.; besides numerous treatises, notices, advertisements and items of information respecting printing from all parts of the country.

The typographic specimens are very fine. The Chisotype, a suggestive name, for the type, which was invented by J. F. Earhart, of 13 Pearl Street, Columbus, Ohio, is especially noticeable.

Apropos of the subject, the Job Room of this establishment is turning out some very fine work, and is simply prepared by reason of its superior facilities in the direction to supply the local wants of the people, at reasonable terms and with guaranteed satisfaction. Give the News office a trial.

Product of the New Mill.—We present to-day an advertisement embellished by a cut made by John Held—of : Armstrong & Co's new mill on North Temple Street.

The grad's of flour they are prepared to supply are enumerated. The product of the mill speaks for itself. Having used the flour we are enabled to state from actual knowledge, and unhesitatingly pronounce it the best we have ever tasted. The bread made from it is all that could be desired for excellence, being of that delightful flavor derived from the presence of the strength of the wheat, while it is at the same time of unusual fineness. The mill is a success in every way, and nothing can prevent its becoming one of the most popular institutions in the West. A trial of its product is all that is needed to secure conviction on that point. We congratulate the owners.

World Atlas.—Mr. John Nield, one of the proprietors of the Pictorial Record mentioned some time ago, is now canvassing the Territory for the new Indexed Family Atlas of the United States, with maps of the world.

It is a compendium of geographical knowledge, compiled from the latest authentic sources, showing in detail the railway system and postal routes, with historical and descriptive matter of the States and Territories of the United States, accompanied by large scale maps and general remarks pertaining to the geographical position of every country upon the face of the globe.

An attractive feature is made of the statistical matter (including religions) and population returns from the last census. Just the kind of a book every family should have.

Another Union.—The marriage season has evidently begun in good earnest. Yesterday morning, Mr. O. S. Hardy, son of Bishop L. W. Hardy, took to wife Miss Sarah L. Hansen, daughter of Elder Hansen, one of the Bishops of Sugar House Ward, where both of the young people reside.

A reception in the evening at Brother Hansen's home was unanimously attended, and a most happy occasion was the result.

We are not personally acquainted with the young couple, but we dare venture they are in every way worthy of the lineage through which they came. We wish them every happiness.

No More Twain.—Mr. Stephen Voorhes, of Maht, and Miss Eliza Reid, of the same place, were yesterday made man and wife, the ceremony being performed by Counselor D. H. Wells. The bride is a daughter of Bishop W. T. Reid. The young couple, who are as happy as newly married people always are, will take their departure for their "sunny southern home" to-morrow. May joy go with them!

The Minstrels.—The coming Thanksgiving event at the Salt Lake Theatre, is the engagement of the Boston Operatic Minstrels, with Miss Beale Louise King in vocal selections. The posters are out giving full particulars of the combination and their night of performance.

A case of assault and battery was tried this morning.

Knocked Down by a Horse.—A painful accident befel Mr. William James, son of David James, Esq., about 10 o'clock this morning. He had hitched to the light wagon belonging to the business house which he represents, a wild horse, and after driving up to and calling at the store, the horse ran on into the Eleventh Ward.

While on the way, the head-stall of the horse's bridle became disarranged, and Mr. James got out to fix it, leaving the lines with a small boy who was with him in the wagon. He had barely reached the horse's head when the latter, becoming frightened at something, reared up and struck him in the face with his hoofs, inflicting two ugly cuts, one above and the other beneath his left eye.

He fell to the ground and lay there helpless for some minutes, while the horse ran on. Recovering himself as soon as he could, Mr. James pursued and finally the runaway was stopped. He was asked into a house near by, and had the blood washed from his face, after which he sent the boy back to the store with the wagon, and went in quest of a surgeon, who stitched up his wounds. He is feeling rather weak this afternoon, and doubts his eye will present a bad appearance for some days, but we are pleased to learn that the accident which might have been worse, proved otherwise.

U. S. Commissioner, J. F. Ellis, with the fish car which brought the carp for Territorial distribution, left for Denver, Colorado, via the Union Pacific Railway, at 6 o'clock this morning.

The concert in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms last evening was well attended and much enjoyed. The instrumental music was encored again and again, some of the songs and recitations were excellent. The programme was all well rendered, and it would be unfair to particularize.

A CASE NOT BEYOND HELP.

Dr. M. H. Hindsdale, Kennewick, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quack Consumption. A few last years the family was persuaded to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst and had no idea she could recover."

Watson's Kearsale King.

Hon. Daniel W. Voorhes, U. S. Senator from Indiana, says: "I consider St. Jacob's Oil a splendid remedy. I suffered from rheumatism of the back. I used St. Jacob's Oil, which gave me instantaneous relief, and finally cured me completely.

Neither mental nor physical labor can be accomplished satisfactorily unless the system is in order. When you feel tired, languid, wearied without cause, and find it slow to act, and requiring great mental effort, you can rest assured that your liver is not acting properly, and that nature requires assistance to help throw off impurities. There is no remedy that will accomplish this so mildly and yet effectually as "Purick's" Liver Bitters. A trial will satisfy you of its merits.

As a true and efficient tonic, and one that exerts all other iron and medicinal, take How's Iron Bitters.
