

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

[Millennial Star, Nov. 19.]

After December 1, 1894, the address of the Newcastle conference house will be No. 6, East Ravensworth Terrace, Westo South Shields, Durham county.

Mrs. Marie Kopp died suddenly at her home in the Fourth ward, Provo, Friday from paralysis of the heart. Mrs. Kopp emigrated to Utah from Palestine about seven years ago. She leaves several children to mourn her loss.

The Salt Lake Co-operative Iron-works Co., of which Edward King is president and W. S. Murrian secretary, Friday morning assigned for the benefit of its creditors, W. S. Murrian being named as assignee. The assets are returned at $2,515.19 and total liabilities $2,930.69.

Price Telegraph: Wellington has been made a flag station. Trains numbering two and three will stop there for passengers to get on or off. This will be a great convenience to the people living at Wellington, but the company should go farther and give them a station and shipping facilities as the town deserves.

Payson Globe: One of our leading merchants purchased a new shotgun a few days ago. He did not possess the necessary patience to wait until he had time to go out and try it on a jack rabbit, but stuck up a spot in the back yard, slipped out and blazed away at it and then ran in the house before the neighbors could get out to see who it was and report him to the marshal for shooting in the city limits.

Carl Warr left Bishop Brinton's place last October saying he was going home to his parents, John and Margaret Warr, who live at 1036 east Sixth South street, Salt Lake City. He has not been seen nor heard from since then. He is 16 years old and has three fingers cut off on his left hand. Any one knowing of the boy's whereabouts will confer a favor by notifying his parents at above address.

Territorial papers, please copy.

Lehi Banner: The artesian well at the Central school house is now finished at a depth of 300 feet. The stream is small, but not because there is not plenty of water, but because the drivers lost some sixty feet of small pipe down the well and two or three grab irons, which they could not get out, and bent the large pipe so they could drive no further. The stream secured is large enough to supply the engine and enough for the children to drink.

Mrs. Harry Armitage, subscribing herself as "an anxious wife," has written to Chief of Police Pratt from No. 259 Forty-second street, Chicago, under date of November 30th, as follows:

"Please inform me if there was a Harry Armitage in Salt Lake City sometime between '72 and '76. I think he was working on a newspaper. He perhaps engaged in other business also. And during the same time was there a man by the name of David H. Throop? Since my husband is missing from St. Louis I learned he used those two names."

Private Neibergall, the soldier who is supposed to have received his death wound at the hands of the notorious "Doc" Kessler, in a brothel on the East Bench a few nights ago, succumbed to his injuries Tuesday, dying about half past seven o'clock. Coroner Taylor conducted an inquest over the remains today. Kessler will be held to answer to the charge of murder. He is still in jail and maintains that he is innocent of the terrible deed for which he is believed by the police to be responsible beyond the shadow of doubt.

Niels Christensen, one of the pioneers and leading ecclesiastical authorities of the Hyde Park ward, died last Wednesday evening from obstruction of the bowels. He had been seriously ill for two days previous to his death, and on Wednesday morning he underwent an operation for the reduction of a twisted intestine. He rallied from the operation, but again relapsed and in the evening passed away. Brother Christensen was a good man, well respected and honored by all who knew him, and his loss will be felt by hundreds of friends.

A telegram received from Beaver today announced the death, at 6 o'clock this morning (Dec. 3rd), of Sister Mary Hannah White, widow of Samuel D. White, and mother of Elder Chas. D. White, president of the Beaver Stake of Zion. She was the sister of Bishop Robt. T. Burton, and mother of Mrs. Mary Musser, of this city, and was in her 77th year. She joined the Church in the fall of 1837, and has been a faithful Latter-day Saint, highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her illness was unknown to her relatives in this city.

Elder John A. Wakeham, of this city, returned last Saturday from a sojourn in New England of over three years. He left Utah in August, 1891, for that region, his main object being to collect genealogical data relating to his kindred. He held no public meetings, but did a great deal of fireside preaching. He reports a great melting of prejudice in regard to the Mormons, and a much more favorable feeling towards them than formerly existed. He traveled some in Massachusetts, but most of the time of his absence was spent in New Hampshire. He was very successful in collecting genealogical information.

The kindergarten school of Rowland Hall did a very graceful act on Wednesday afternoon, in giving a lunch to about 25 waif children who were gathered in and greatly enjoyed the bountiful repast provided. Then they all joined in a good time with games and songs till the hour for dismissal. The "remnants" from the meal were gathered and taken to the "wayfarers' lodge," to satisfy the appetite of other persons who were hungry and stood in need of the kindly contribution. The lunch to the little ones was under the direction of Miss Robinson, of the kindergarten school, and her assistants Miss Marshall, Mrs. Rowe and Miss King.

Manti Messenger: Another disgraceful row in a public dance in the Assembly hall has emphasized the necessity of closing such places. The repeated uncivilized actions of many characters who attend such public places has made the matter a question of importance to mothers who unthinkingly permit their daughters to attend the modern halls..... There is some talk of a company being organized for the purpose of constructing an iron foundry and machine shop in this city. The project has not fully materialized but work is being done on the preliminary organization.

Sunday, about 5 o'clock, a team driven by John Gibbons, in the employ of the St. Louis Steel Range Co., became unmanageable and broke away, not, however, until the driver had been dragged some distance, and received severe cuts and bruises on the head and right hand, and a fracture of the left ankle. After he let go of the lines the team ran into a buggy driven by Miss Louisa Jacques. The top was torn from the vehicle and, together with the occupant, thrown over the fence into Postmaster Roberts's lot. The young lady has been an invalid for seven years, and confined to her bed most of that time. Strange to say she received no severe physical injuries from the accident, but was, of course, badly frightened.

Mrs. Matilda Price Spencer, of this city, admirably observed Thanksgiving Day by giving a very pleasant party to a number of lady friends the youngest of whom had passed the age of 76 years, most of whom are poor, but all of whom enjoyed a most excellent time. Among the honored veterans in attendance were Mrs. Mary W. Sprague, aged 92 years, Mrs. Caroline Brazier, aged 85, Mrs. Elizabeth Hyde, aged 84 next February, Mrs. Sarah Mautrup, aged 78, and Mrs. Jane Littlewood Rigby, aged 81. The aggregate ages of the five ladies named is 420 years—an average of 84. The only man present was Brother Claudius V. Spencer, and to him fell the honor of returning thanks and asking the blessing.

Ephraim Smith, foreman at the Mingo smelter at Sandy, and George Ray, another of the employees there, met with an unfortunate accident last Wednesday afternoon. It seems that the two men were cooling off the matte, when some water got underneath, causing it to explode and scatter in every direction. The hot metal went over Smith and Roy, who immediately plunged into the canal which runs by the works. By this means they managed to subdue the fire; they were, nevertheless, very badly injured. Smith's face and left side were burned; Roy was also seriously burned, his right arm to such an extent that it is feared amputation may become necessary. Dr. Monck, of Sandy, attended the injured men and did his utmost to alleviate their suffering.

Tooele Transcript: We hear the Mercur school will be started whenever the trustees and people of the new district get ready. The county superintendent hopes to have it going soon, as he has some time since engaged a lady teacher, who is awaiting orders.
