FRAGMENTS.

Lead quotations: per 100 lbs., $3.70.

The grand jury held but a short session to-day.

CONFERENCE convenes one week from to-day.

Hovey missionaries in the country want to-morrow.

MATTERS in the police court to-day are exceedingly quiet.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS in the various wards at 10 a.m. to-morrow.

ROBERT KELSEY, of Park City, was buried from the undertaker's office yesterday.

SHIVER quotations: corrected daily by Wells, Fargo & Co., New York, 21 Wall St., London 80.

The attention of the Third District Court to-day was occupied by the case of Griffiths vs. Ireland.

SEVERAL new greenhouses are being placed in front of grocery stores in the business part of town.

REMEMBER the services in the Tabernacle to-morrow at 2 p.m., and in the ward meeting houses in the evening.

"FRANK" is the watchword of the defense in the Griffiths vs. Ireland suit, resulting from the G. M. Pierce failure.

The teachers of Salt Lake County went to Provo this morning to attend the meeting of the Utah County Teachers' Association.

The grand jury came into court yesterday and presented four indictments, one under Territorial and three under United States statutes.

WELLS, FARGO & CO., to-day received two bars of Christy bullion, value, $1,000; one lot of American gold, value, $4,000; total value, $5,000.

The Second Quorum of Seventies will hold their regular meeting in the Fifteenth Ward school house on Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

The regular crop for the coming season will be the largest for several years if late frosts do not kill the buds and the caterpillars do not prove too numerous.

The regular monthly meeting of the First Quorum of Elders will be held this evening in the west wing of the 14th Ward Assembly Room, at 7:30 o'clock.

The regular meeting of the general officers of the Deseret Sunday School Union will be held next Monday at 5 p.m., at the usual place, L. W. Richards, Secretary.

The buildings next to the Episcopal corner are being rapidly pushed to completion. Swanner & Co. intend to occupy their old stand—perhaps we ought to say new stand—next week.

Is Salt Lake not enjoying a business boom, it is certainly having a bicycle boom. Six fully-ripped "Experts" are on the road, and more orders will doubtless be sent soon.

The large advertisement of Knowledge and Green, real estate agent, appears in to-day's supplement. They have money to loan, houses to rent and real estate for sale, and may be found under Jones & Co.'s bank.

The 5th Quorum of Seventies will hold their regular monthly meeting to-morrow (Sunday), at 1 o'clock p.m., in the Eleventh Ward schoolhouse. The presidency will be pleased to see a good attendance.

Work has commenced on the Surplus canal, and is progressing nicely. During the past week eight or nine teams have been employed, but an augmented force will commence on Monday, and the determination is to push the work as rapidly as possible until it is completed. The great quantity of surface water, however, tends to impede their progress.

LOCAL NEWS.

A Counterfeit.—A boy went into Van Horn's grocery store yesterday, and obtained change for a $10 bill, which was afterwards found to be a counterfeit.

Married.—On Thursday, March 26th, Mr. D. Franklin Davis, of the Seventeenth Ward, and Miss Mattie Sheets, daughter of Bishop Sheets, of the Eighth Ward, were united in marriage. The new couple's congratulations to the worthy young people.

Bound Over.—At the close of the examination of the Riley-Wilson case yesterday, before Justice Spitz, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" to the grand jury, and the action of the grand jury, and Wilson, who was an unwilling witness against his assailant, was held in $500 bonds to appear and testify. Both were ordered committed until bail was furnished.

Musical Matter.—Prof. Careless, sight-reading music class is progressing admirably, and owing to a number of applications received from persons connected with ward choirs, he will be obliged to start another. If the requisite number of pupils come forward one week from next Wednesday, the class will then be organized. A harmony class, composed mostly of choir leaders and some others who also shortly be formed.

District Court Proceedings.—Yesterday afternoon the grand jury came into court and reported four indictments, three found under the laws of the United States and one under Territorial statutes.

The case of T. C. Griffith vs. E. A. Ireland has occupied most of the time to-day. The plaintiff offered in evidence the deed of assignment, but the defense objected. The matter was argued and submitted, and the objection overruled. An exception was taken. The case is still in progress.

Fire.—About 2 a.m. yesterday, during the shower, Israel Spitz, of Brighton, was awakened and discovered the woodshed attached to his house to be on fire. The flames were rapidly communicated to the house, which, with all the contents except a few chairs, a lounge, and some bedding was destroyed, the family barely escaping. No fire had been lit in the kitchen for several months, and the only cause which can be assigned is that the place was struck by lightning. The accident leaves Mr. Spitz and his wife and two children in desolate circumstances. The neighbors rendered all the assistance they could. The loss amounts to about $700.

Mr. Kelsey's Death.—As stated in last evening's News, the death of Mr. Kelsey occurred about half past two o'clock yesterday afternoon. On Thursday morning he went as usual to his place of business on First South Street, in apparently good health. He had been considerably worried of late over the turn his affairs had taken, as when it was made public that his family relations were being investigated by the grand jury, many of those with whom he was transacting business called on him and evinced a feeling of uneasiness concerning the outcome, and his business began to perceptibly decrease. This annoyed him, and the strain upon his nerves caused by the persecution he anticipated having to undergo, undoubtedly caused the collapse of his physical strength. At about noon on Thursday, he was suddenly seized with a violent pain in the stomach, and fell on the lounge, completely overcome. Dr. White was summoned, and endeavored to relieve the sufferer, but met with little success. At 4 o'clock he was removed to his home, where every attention was given him, but he failed to rally, suffering continuously the most intense pain, which he bore with great fortitude. At about 10 o'clock yesterday he sank into unconsciousness, from which he never aroused.

Elly Braze Kelsey was the son of Eli Kelsey and Mary Oldfield, and was born at Portsmouth, Scotland County, Ohio, October 27, 1819. He subsequently moved to Indiana, where, in 1847, he married. He was engaged in merchandising the larger portion of his time there, and in 1852 went to Kentucky, where he taught school. It was in this State that he heard the principles of the gospel preached, and in July, 1847, was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. In April, 1848, he removed to Nauvoo, and at the time of the martyrdom of the Prophet and Patriarch, was teaching the school which the Prophet Joseph had attended. For about ten months before leaving Nauvoo, in 1846, he was almost entirely blind. He reached Council Bluffs in 1847, and in February, 1848, started on a mission to Great Britain, leaving his family in Missouri; he labored in the Glasgow Conference, became President of the conference, and in July, 1849, was released to visit his family. In November of this year he again started for Britain, traveling overland to New York, preaching by the way. In 1850, when Apostle Orson Pratt came from Liverpool to Boston, Mr. Kelsey was left to attend to emigration matters in England, and was in charge of the Millennial Star, of which he was assistant editor. Soon after he was appointed President of the Warwickshire Conference, and later on of the London Conference. During his presidency at the latter place fourteen hundred souls were added to the church. He was most active and energetic worker. In 1852 he was released, and November 13, 1852, with his family, arrived at Salt Lake City. Here he followed the business of farming for several years.

At the time of the Goshute movement, in 1860, he identified himself with that party, and his connection with the church was severed. He engaged in business as druggist, in Ogden, then in mining, and in 1872 paid a visit to England. In 1877 he started a real estate agent, which business he followed until his death, which was occasioned by congestion of the stomach. He enjoyed the confidence of a great many business men, and capitalists in his dealings, in which he was esteemed as honorable and conscientious. The greater portion of the community will sympathize with the family and friends in their bereavement. The deceased leaves two wives, nine children, thirty grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren now living.

The funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, at the residence of the family, Second East Street.

"Loaded" Horses.—Complaints reach us from time to time concerning the evil effects of feeding, or allowing animals to eat grass or hay grown in the vicinity of the smelters south of this city. Since the smelters have been in operation there many animals, horses in particular, have died from being "loaded" by the poisonous particles contained in the hay and grass from the furnaces, which float in the air and settle upon the grass and other vegetation for a considerable distance from the points from which they emanate. In many instances these losses have occurred to men who were poor and who suffered great inconvenience in consequence.

Yesterday a person who lives in the city lead one of his horses out of town to die from this cause, as the animal was pronounced incurable, and it died this morning. Another man who lives south of the city has six animals sick with being "loaded"—three horses and three colts. The latter are apparently recovering but the horses, despite the efforts to save them, will no doubt die if they do not have a heavy blood purifier for their own, as he is not in the most affluent circumstances.

It is certainly a matter of regret that the smelters are not compelled to use condensers or "dust tubes" that will extract the poisonous gases from the smoke, and thus save heavy losses to the people who live in their vicinity. We understand that the Germania works are supplied with an arrangement of this kind. At the end of the smoke stack is a damper which throws all the vapors into an underground chamber near six hundred feet long, and so arranged that all the arsenic, antimony, and other poisonous substances are precipitated, and when the smoke finally makes its exit, it is deprived of its death-dealing properties and is harmless. In other places there are laws to enforce such provisions and many would rejoice if we had such a law here.

Scrollwork Ornament.—We were shown to-day a very pretty scrollwork ornament in the shape of a fancy bracket, for hanging a watch upon, made by a 15-year-old Swiss boy named Julius Billeter, who came from his native country three years ago and is now living in the 19th Ward. His father, who recently came from Switzerland, and who is a machinist by trade, made the machine, which is operated by treadle power, the work was done upon so that he too, as well as his boy, is deserving of credit for the excellence of the latter's production. The little fellow not only evinces considerable ingenuity in picking up this branch of business without an instructor, but praiseworthy ambition in striving to earn something by it while unable to obtain other work. We hope he will succeed in finding purchasers for his wares, for he deserves encouragement.

Stationery.—Dwyer received to-day several cases of stationery goods, including a large line of fine memorandum books; also blank books, full broad one-half bound cap, ledgers, day journals, records and cash books, only 12 cents per quire. Dwyer has the cheapest and largest assortment of blank books in the city. He leads in lowest prices and quality of goods. See advertisement in another column.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

A span of valuable horses were stolen from the stable of Mr. Adams, of Kaysville, last Monday night.

The first annual meeting of the Idaho Cattle Growers' Association will be held at Shoshone on Wednesday, April 1st.

The man Embree, of Laramie, who deliberately fired three shots at his former employer several days ago, and then fled, has not yet been found. Some think he has committed suicide by drowning himself in the Big Laramie river.

The other day a band of thirty mules valued at $3,000 were found dead on the Boise River, Idaho, where they doubtless caused the collapse of his physical strength. At about noon on Thursday, he was suddenly seized with a violent pain in the stomach, and fell on the lounge, completely overcome. Dr. White was summoned, and endeavored to relieve the sufferer, but met with little success. At 4 o'clock he was removed to his home, where every attention was given him, but he failed to rally, suffering continuously the most intense pain, which he bore with great fortitude. At about 10 o'clock yesterday he sank into unconsciousness, from which he never aroused.

A special from Dillon, M. T., to the Butte Minor, dated March 25, says: The prisoners confined in the Dillon jail have turned the tables on the sheriff. The convicts were but three in number, but they soon overpowered the officer, placed him in their cell, locked him up and carried away the key. The prisoners made their escape and the sheriff, at this writing (10 p.m.), is still locked in.

Last Wednesday an old man who was a passenger on one of the Union Pacific emigrant trains was missed near Green River, and the anxious conductor fearing he had fallen from the train and been killed, telegraphed back to learn if such was the case. It was finally ascertained that he was at Fremont Station alive and unharmed. It seems that the old man had walked out on the platform while asleep and stepped from the train while going at full speed. It is a curious but well known fact that a somnambulist is never hurt in this way, although they have been known to leave trains going at a speed of forty miles an hour.

Two freight trains collided on the Oregon Short Line last Thursday morning near Worland, Wyo., killing. The two trains came at each other at a point where there is a deep cut and a sharp curve, and although they were reversed before the shock, the result was a terrible wreck. A flat car next to one of the engines climbed clear over the tender and rested on top of the boiler, while the other engine stopped on top of the flat car, thus making a complete flat car sandwich. The two crews took a leap for life, and all escaped unhurt except one of the conductors, who had his collar bone broken.

Conference Rates.—The difference of opinion existing between the Utah Central and P. & R. G. V. officials in the interpretation of the traffic association rules regarding special rates over these roads, is not yet settled, and it is probable that there will be no conference rates, either in or out of Salt Lake.

Another Young Folks' Affair.—On next Saturday, April 4th, Maner Clayton has arranged to give a children's ball in the afternoon, and one for the young folks in the evening. He purposes introducing novelties, of a more or less comic character, that will prove an immense attraction. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the Deseret Hospital. We hope and believe the affair will be a success, as it should be.

Amputation.—On Thursday a fourteen-year old son of W. P. P. St. Clair, was brought to this city from Eagle Rock, Idaho, to receive surgical assistance, having suffered for a long time from diseased bones of the instep of the left foot. At several different times pieces of bone have been removed from the foot, and it was found necessary, at the examination yesterday, to amputate the foot at the ankle-joint. The amputation took place this afternoon, Dr. Bendish performing the operation, assisted by Dr. Mitchell, of Ogden, Dr. Bean, of Eagle Rock, and Drs. Fowler and Potter, of Salt Lake. The boy is progressing favorably.

A Token of Esteem.—Brother Robert Aveson, of the 21st Ward, has been quite active during the past few months in training young men in the study of the plan of salvation recommended in the "Preceptor," issued by Elder John Nicholson some time since. The members of his third class, Josiah Burrows, John W. Saunders, Jas. D. Harvey, Alex. Pringle, Jas. B. Barton, William J. Castleton and James Arbuckle, recently requested a teacher to accompany them to Savage's Art Gallery, where they had arranged to sit for photographs. The result is one of the finest group pictures we have seen in a long time, including the entire class, with Bro. Aveson in the center, which is intended as a present to him from his pupils, and will doubtless be regarded by him as a token of their esteem.
