Held to Answer.

The preliminary examination into the charge of robbery against George Wilson, recently liberated from the penitentiary, closed yesterday afternoon, and resulted in his being held to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $750, but as it was not forthcoming he will spend four months in his old haunts before the next grand jury convenes.

Released.

Yesterday James S. Brown was released from the penitentiary, after having served a term for unlawful cohabitation. He expresses himself as feeling well and rejoices at being permitted once more to breathe the air of freedom. He says he has no fault to find with the treatment he received in prison, but at best it is a most undesirable place to stop at.

For Grass Valley.

Dr. W. H. Shock, of Grass Valley, Sevier County, is in the city, having just arrived with a carload of Short-horns, for his Grass Valley ranch. He has a fine-looking lot of stock, including fifteen one and two year-old heifers. He will leave for the south in a couple of days. Some of the Short-horns are on exhibition at the old City Market building.

Lightning.

During the brief storm of last Saturday, at Farmington, about 11:30 a.m., a large locust tree, fifteen feet west of the residence of the late Leonard G. Rice, was splintered to within a few feet of the ground, by lightning. The house was pretty badly shaken, but not much damaged, except that about a dozen window lights were broken. Mrs. Rice and the children were at home, and of course badly frightened, but none of them felt otherwise injured by the unwelcome visitor.

Arrested for Perjury.

Yesterday afternoon Ching Chong, keeper of a Chinese lodging house on Commercial Street, was arrested on a charge of perjury. His offense was committed in testifying, at the trial of Little Charlie on the charge of murder, that Charlie was in Salt Lake at the time the killing was done. Charlie's subsequent confession confirmed the suspicion of the prosecution that several Chinamen were swearing falsely. Indictments were found by the last grand jury, but it seems that all the heathens concerned have taken French leave, with the exception of Ching Chong, as none of the others could be found. There appears to be a sure case against the Chinaman. His bail was fixed at $800.

The Rate War.

The war in passenger rates between the Utah Central and the D. & R. G. W. was fairly inaugurated by the announcement in last evening's News that the latter road would sell round trip tickets to and from Ogden and Salt Lake at $2.25. The narrow gauge people claim that the Utah Central first made the cut rate, by selling tickets from Ogden to Garfield and return for $2.75, which the D. & R. G. W. regards as much of a cut as the $2.25 rate between Ogden and this city. Today the Utah Central comes out with an announcement, one better than that of the D. & R. G. W., and announces that round trip tickets between all stations, good for ten days, will be sold at one and a half fare. This makes the Ogden route the same as on narrow gauge, and also gives all other stations on the line the same advantage.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

Yesterday Before Judge Henderson, at Ogden.

Thomas B. Helm was arraigned on indictments charging adultery and unlawful cohabitation. The statutory time was taken in which to plead in the two cases. As he was not under bonds in the adultery case, an order was issued fixing bail at $1,000.

Jane Helm was called for arraignment on a charge of fornication, and by her attorney, Mr. Rolapp, waived the reading of the indictment, and took the statutory time to plead.

In the case of Johanna Petersen, adultery, Mr. Rogers asked that the defendant be permitted to go on her own recognizance, as she had been in jail for some time, and the prospects were unfavorable for a trial at the present time. The case was set for trial on Friday next.

The case of the U. S. vs. James M. Wade, unlawful cohabitation, was continued for the term.

The People vs. Chas. Blandin; obtaining money under false pretenses, continued for the term. The defendant was released on giving $200 bail.

Peter Anderson was arraigned on two indictments charging adultery and unlawful cohabitation. The reading of the latter bill was waived and the statutory time taken in which to plead.

Pleas of not guilty were entered in the following cases of unlawful cohabitation: Bent Petersen, Alanson Norton, Andrew Hansen, P. C. Jensen, Jno. H. Barker, Ole Andrew Andersen, James Klier, Edward Robtus and Henry Tingey.

In the case of the United States vs. Neils G. Anderson, unlawful cohabitation, a plea of guilty was entered. The defendant was 31 years old, was married to his plural wife in 1884, his youngest child by the plural wife being about 12 months old. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $300.

Thomas Harper was called for sentence on a plea of guilty to a charge of unlawful cohabitation. He was married last in 1883. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $300 and costs.

James Bywater was called for sentence on a similar charge. He was 63 years old, and the date of his plural marriage was 1873. His youngest child was four years of age. Sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $50 and costs.

In the case of the People vs. W. E. Harris, an order was entered postponing sentence till June 23.

Maurice Prevost, forgery, defendant was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. This is the minimum sentence that could be imposed.

Wm. H. Miles, Jno. Miles and John McCarty, convicted of riot, were called for a new trial. The motion was overruled. The motion was made merely for the purpose of record. The court asked the defendants a number of questions, in the course of which it developed that the two Miles boys had been in the habit of drinking and had both been fined for breaches of the peace. Wm. H. Miles was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary; John Miles was fined $150 and McCarty was fined $100.

Sentence in the case of F. Broschinski was postponed till June 23.

United States vs. Samuel Taylor, unlawful cohabitation. Defendant was 56 years old. His first or legal wife was dead, and he married his plural wife 13 years ago. Mr. Taylor promised to obey the law in the future. The court asked him if he were not married in England. Defendant replied that he had been and had never been divorced. He had been divorced from the woman he married first in this country, by the Church. The court: "And now you propose to obey the law?" Defendant: "Yes, sir." The court: "How do you propose to do it?" Defendant: "By living as I am doing now, alone." The court gave Mr. Taylor a short lecture on his non-observance of the marriage laws of the country and sentenced him to imprisonment for three months.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAY 30, 1888.

T. E. Ricks Arrested.

About midnight on Monday, Thomas E. Ricks was arrested at Logan on the charge of unlawful cohabitation. He gave $2500 bonds to await the result of the preliminary examination before the commissioner.

Another Demand.

Marshal Dyer yesterday demanded possession of the new Z. C. M. I. factory, claiming a right to it as Receiver, in the suits against the Church. The demand was not acceded to.

The Committee.

The following brethren constituted the committee on arrangements for the funeral of Apostle Erastus Snow:

John R. Winder, Chairman,
Henry Dinwoodey,
John O. Cutler,
J. W. Clawson,
Francis Armstrong,
C. H. Wilken,
B. Y. Hampton,
Elias A. Smith,
J. H. Grant,
A. J. Bart,
O. A. Woolley,
Alfred Solomon,
H. M. Wells,
G. D. Ryper.

Unequally Matched.

At an early hour this morning a select nine of the "counter jumpers" and other employees of Z. C. M. I. were pitted against the same class of citizens from the establishment of Clark, Eldredge & Co., in a match game of baseball. From the start victory was perched upon the banners of the "Co-op" boys, who stacked up the runs with a celerity that made the heads of their antagonists swim, so to speak. The result was a score of 22 to 15. The contest occurred on Washington Square.

The Clark-Eldredge boys attribute their defeat to the precipitate introduction by the other side of a pitcher, to whose peculiar performances they couldn't catch on. He had a way of firing the ball that caused it to elude, with magic regularity, the blow of the man at the bat. The name of this tantalizing pitcher is Proctor.

Today at Fort Douglas.

Great preparations have been made during the past week for the reception of the G. A. R., which visited and decorated the graves in the Post Cemetery today. The usual ceremonies incident to Decoration Day were gone through by Major Robinson. After the services speeches of a patriotic nature were delivered by Major Bradley, Captain Rodgers and others. Music was furnished by the Walker Opera House Band, and also by a nice life and drum band composed of the boys from All Hallows' college, which institution also furnished the greatest attraction of the day, i. e., a company of juvenile soldiers, the oldest about 14 years. These boys were thoroughly drilled, armed and equipped, and their execution of the "manual of arms" was frequently applauded by the old "veterans" who apparently took great interest in every movement of the little soldiers.

We also celebrated to-day the restoration of the status of the Post; Fort Douglas is again a regimental headquarters. Col. Blunt and staff, with B. and H. Companies of the 16th Infantry, accompanied by their excellent band, arrived in camp this morning and immediately hoisted the garrison flag. The other companies of Colonel Blunt's regiment are coming here in charge of Lieutenant Col. Hauff and are expected about Friday. They are coming from Texas.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

What Was Done Before Judge Henderson Yesterday.

Proceedings before Judge Henderson, at Ogden, yesterday:

The United States vs. Elijah A. Box; unlawful cohabitation; trial postponed until May 31, owing to the illness of a witness.

United States vs. Axel Christensen; unlawful cohabitation; trial and verdict of guilty; sentence set for June 23rd.

The following arraignments were made: United States vs. P. Poulsen, unlawful cohabitation and polygamy; defendant took the statutory time in which to plead. United States vs. Ann J. Jensen, fornication; plea of not guilty. United States vs. William Williams, adultery; defendant took the statutory time in which to plead.

The grand jury filed into court and handed its report to the judge. The following cases were reported, ignored and the defendants discharged: The People vs. Samuel M. Price; United States vs. Eliza Petersen, fornication; the People vs. Nicholas Morgan; the People vs. James Hansen; the People vs. C. E. Blandin; United States vs. Charity Mikesell, and United States vs. Ephraim Wight, both fornication, and the People vs. Robert Taylor.

Mr. Hiles asked that an order be entered re-submitting to the next grand jury a number of cases that the present jury had been unable to consider because of the absence of witnesses.

In the matter of the People, etc., vs. Rley H. Jones and others, conspiracy, Mr. Hiles stated that the last two grand juries had been unable to make a report on the case. He had looked into it some, however, and did not think there was much in the case and therefore moved that it be dismissed. An order was entered dismissing the case.

United States vs. Axel Christensen; adultery; continued for the term.

In the case of Hans C. Hansen, his former plea of not guilty to unlawful cohabitation was withdrawn and a plea of guilty entered. June 23d was set as the time for sentence.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, MAY 31, 1888.

The Immigrants.

By telegram we learn that the company of Saints which left Liverpool on the 19th inst. per S. S. Wyoming arrived safely in New York yesterday and left there via Norfolk, last evening. All well.

Arraignments.

In the Third District Court today, Israel Spitz, of Brighton, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, committed on April 9, 1888. He is accused of having stolen a fifty dollar horse belonging to Philip Fiddler; he pleaded not guilty, and W. I. Snyder was appointed by the Court to defend him.

William J. Parker, of Davis County, was arraigned on the charge of unlawful cohabitation with Eliza Parker and Elizabeth Thurgood Parker. He entered a plea of not guilty.

JOHN SQUIRES

Is Sent to the Penitentiary for a Six Months' Term.

Today John Squires was called in the Third District Court for sentence on a conviction of unlawful cohabitation. He stated that LeGrand Young was his attorney, and as he was absent he would ask a postponement till he could be sent for. Mr. Young came in later, and said the matter had slipped from his memory. He would like the court to postpone sentence a few days, as Mr. Squires had a divorce suit pending, and his attorney in that matter, Mr. Moyle, had gone east and would not be back for ten or fifteen days. When this divorce was settled, as it would be, in Mr. Squires' favor, it would change his status before the court.

Judge Zane made inquiries into the condition of the divorce suit, and after ascertaining that it could and should have been settled before today, wanted to know why it had been neglected, instead of having been taken at the proper time, and matters arranged properly.

Mr. Young said that the decree had not been taken because Mr. Moyle had the matter in hand and he (Mr. Young) knew nothing of it.

Court—Mr. Squires, you lived with this legal wife, the one that has gone away, when you took your plural wife?

Mr. Squires—Yes, sir.

Court—She went off with another man?

Mr. Squires—Yes, sir.

Court—So she took another husband because you took another wife? I suppose she had as much right to do that as you.

Mr. Squires—She lived with me over twenty years after I took the other.

Court—Well, if you get a divorce from her, will you marry the plural wife, and promise to obey the law in the future? That is, when you make the plural wife your legal wife, will you promise never to take another wife?

Mr. Squires—I intend, after the divorce from my first wife, who has run off with another man, to make my second my legal wife, and live with her. I do not intend to take another wife, but I cannot make the promise you require.

Court—When you marry your second wife, will you promise to live with her and with no other, and not marry any other?

Mr. Squires—I cannot say that, I do not know what I may do in the future. I have told you my intention.

Court—You will not say you will never marry another plural wife?

Mr. Squires—I don't expect to do so, but would not like to make any promise binding my conscience.

Court—If you will say in good faith that you will obey the law in the future, I will take that into consideration.

Mr. Squires—I cannot say that. The court then gave Mr. Squires a lecture about polygamy and unlawful cohabitation being contrary to the laws of the land, and sentenced him to be imprisoned in the penitentiary for the term of six months, and to pay a fine of $300 and the costs of the prosecution.

The Utah Agriculturist.

The June number of this magazine has a fine illustration of the magnificent fair building to be erected by the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society on the Tenth Ward Square. The engraving is without doubt the best yet made at home. The contents of the number are made up of matter interesting and instructive to the farmer, gardener and stockraiser, both in original and selected matter. The price of the magazine is $1 per annum. Utah Agriculturist Company, publishers, Salt Lake City.

At Provo.

A little girl fell into the factory race near Davis' livery stable Monday afternoon and was with great difficulty rescued from drowning.

The Provo drugstores have taken out government retail licenses, and their proprietors say they will sell on prescription, the present interpretation of the city ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding.

Suit has been instituted by Receiver Dyer for certain factory stock alleged to be the property of the Church. Service was made by Deputy Vandercook on A. G. Smoot on Tuesday and thirty days allowed in which to answer.

Gabriel Huntsman arrived from the south on Sunday with three wagon loads of machinery for the cannery, which has been purchased by the Provo Canning Company. The machinery was unloaded at the factory and will be put in position as soon as the building is prepared to receive it, which will be within a few weeks.—Provo American.
