Severe Denunciation Brought Murniurs of Dissent From Audience Defendant Made Mute Protest.

Paris, Nov. 12 .- Many well-dressed. stylish women managed to gain entance to the gloomy, stiffing courtroom today to hear the concluding arguments in the trial of Madame Steinhell, The accused woman, deathly pale, walked unaided to her seat, but her step was mechanical and her arms hung limply at her side. When she had taken her place she sat with lowered eyes like one in a dream. Heginning with the words "We will live again the tragic night," Trouard Riolie, who had opened his summing up for the prosecution yesterds. In cold dispassionate words undertook to reconstruct the scenes in the Steinheil home on the night of the tragedy and on the morning following. He marshaled the testiment of the witnesses, and his contention was that the burglary story was a fabrication and the pretended binding of Madame Steinheil a farce; that the money claimed to have been stolen never existed, and that the jewels which the widow asserted had been taken from the house were afterwards found in her possession.

He insisted the evidence proved the apparent illness of the accused after the commission of the crime had been simulated and that subsequent developments confirmed the suspicion that she had acted with hypocrisy throughout.

It was when the police had definitely rejected her story of the gabardine-clad burglars and she saw her lover Borderel slipping from her net because the mystery was unsoived, the prosecu-tor said, that Madame Steinheil in desperation began to accuse innocent persons. He added:

"She wished to avoid the possibility of a non-suit in her favor because such an outcome of the case would not satisfy Borderel, and so, unhesitatingly, sho placed the accusing pearl in the pocket of her servant, Remy Coulilard."

MURMURS OF DISSENT.

As the advocate proceeded he became increasingly severe in his denunciation of the prisoner and frequently murmura of dissent came from those in the court-

As she heard herself described as a cold, calculating fiend with a soft voice, Madame Steinheil bit her lips and raised her clenched hands in mute protest. At the conclusion of his description of the night scene, when the widow made her alleged false statements to the journalist, the prosecutor shouted.

"Is a Challenge to God Almighty That Men Can Make Better Laws Than He."

Kansas City, Nov. 12.-In on address to 5,000 people in Convention hali here hast night, Archbishop John J. Clennon of St. Louis, declared that divorce, socialism and apartment house: were the great perils that beset the American nation.

The modern city dweller has beome something like the clift dweller in the pubelus of the west," said the Rev. Glennon. "The apartment house whatever its advantage, is not and canot become a home. A wife is admitted to them and possibly a parret, but a wife and a parrot do not constitute a family no more than an apartment house constitutes a home." Speaking of divorces the archbishoo said that "every divorce granted and every divorce law written is a chai-lenge to Almighty God—that men can make better laws than be.

BIG WATER SUIT FINALLY ENDED

ing. Settles Noted Irrigation Litigation.

WATER IS NOW APPORTIONED

Perpetual Division of Flow Made in Decree and Commissioner Appointed to Carry Out Terms.

In a decree hunded down by Judge Charles W. Morse of the Third district court this morning, the water rights in the Little Cottonwood canyon were adjudiented, A. O. H. Foutke named by the court as the commissioner to see that the decree is proper ly carried out. His pay, during the irrigation season, is to be determined ly yearly bearings before the court. This suit is one of the most important origination suits that has been heard before the courts of Utah. It involved before the courts of Utah. It involved every person or corporation owning land which was irrigated by ditches from Little Cottonwood It includes Murray, Sandy and 255 persons who hold under rights in the stream.

In presenting the case the records were scarched as far back as 1848, a year after the pioneers reached Salt Lake valley. Judge Morse decided that the following ditches were built prior to 1856 and that the users under these ditches still have rights to the following amount. In second foot: North Despain, 96; South Despain, 25; Greenwood, J. Brady, No. 1, 41; Brady No. 2, 10; Hissinger, 61; Van Vallenberg, 25. This nucleys a total of 21 second-fact of the primary water to which there seven ditches are always entitled. The total amount of primary water in Little Cottonwood is decreased by the court to be 24.79 cubic feet. This leaves a flow of 22.64 which is divided in the following proportion: Tanner ditch, two-ninths; Richards ditch, one-ninth; Cahoon and Maxwell, five-eighteenths; Union and Jordan ditch, five-eighteenths, and the Walker ditch, one-ninth.

minth. The court holds that the users of water from the above named ditches have a right to a tight dam across Little Cottonwood at the intake or the Walker ditch.

The Brown ditch is entitled to all the water rising between the intake of the Walker ditch and intake of the Brown ditch, together with all the water flowing past the Walker ditch, not exceeding the espacity of the Brown ditch. SURPLUS APPORTIONMENT.

SURPLUS APPORTIONMENT.

The surplus water is divided pro rata between the Union & East Jordan Irrigation company's ditch and the Brown, Sandy, Nicol and Johnson ditches according to their capacities in the following manner:

Richards, 41.1 second feet; Union & Jordan, 16.25 second feet; Union & Maxhold, 42.78; Walker, 18.39; Tanner, 2.85; Bassinger, 1.56; Greenwood, 5.06; North Despain, 4.75; South Despain extension, 19.27; Brown, 29; Sandy, 69; Nicol, 28.59; Johnson, or Little Nicol, 642; Union & East Jordan air follows:

"As between the Richards ditch, the latter is to have, of the surplus water running in the Richards ditch, above cunning in the Richards ditch, above the point of junction, 308 parts and the Richards ditch, for the land irrigated by it, is to have of such surplus water 193 parts, of a total of 411 parts."

OTHER DIVISIONS.

The court holds that when these have all been supplied the other ditches are to have water as follows:

Steingruber ditch, 2.65 second feet; Thompson ditch, 11, 49 second feet; Griffith, 1; Last Chance, 15, 74; Lym, 11, 78; Hanson, A. and Baker, 1.5.

In the Sandy ditch, Sait Lake county holds a two-thirds interest and it is decreed that as long as the users under this ditch pay $25 a month to the commissioners of the ditch under an old agreement, this ditch is entitled to one-tenth of the primary water belonging tenth of the primary water belonging otherwise to the Tanner, Richards, Ca-hoon & Maxwell, Union & Jordan, and Walker ditches.

The court holds that the average flow of water in Little Cottonwood in the winter is 2.18 second fast.

The suit was filed about two years ago by the Union & East Jordan Irrigation company against all the other water users in this stream.

INCREASE IN WHEAT.

Washington, Nov. 12.-There has been an increase of nearly 300,000,000 bushels, or fully one-sixth, in the production of wheat recently harvested in six countries in the northern hemisphere which in 1908 produced practically two-thirds of the world's supply. The countries embrace the United States, Canada, France, Hungary, Russia and Routmanda and the figures are gathered from the latest estimate published of the production for each country.

After two years of unusually abundant yields, the world's production of hops this year, according to reliable trade estimates, will fall to a lower point than in any year since 1852.

Although improvement was noted in the prospects of the European sugar beet crop during the last month, the probable production during the coming season is still unofficially estimated considerably lower than in 190s-09. naiderably lower than in 1908-09.
